

YUGOSLAVIA IN TURMOIL AS LEADERS FAIL TO AGREE TO CAPITULATE TO NAZI ORDERS

Damaged British Warship Reported Nearing Norfolk

Heavy Cruiser on Way to Navy Yard After Attack by Nazi Submarine

Another Report Says British Destroyer or Cruiser Has Put in at Chester, Pa. in Bad Condition

BALTIMORE, March 23 (AP)—The Baltimore Sun said tonight it had been advised by a usually reliable authority that a British heavy cruiser is heading for the Norfolk, Va., navy yard for repairs.

The source, refusing to be quoted, said it was "possible the warship would arrive there tomorrow morning."

At Philadelphia Commander D. D. Mercer, admiralty attaché of the British consulate, said he had heard "rumors" a damaged British cruiser would put into Norfolk, Va., "within three or four weeks" for repairs.

He said he knew nothing further. Commenting on a Rome radio broadcast heard by NBC, Commander Mercer said he did not know of any British destroyer or cruiser undergoing repairs at Chester, Pa.

Ship Reported at Chester

The broadcast said a 10,000-British destroyer named the London had been towed into the American port of Chester "badly in need of repairs" as a result of a clash with a German submarine.

(Jane's fighting ships lists a 9-

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Roosevelt Plans Highway Program

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Congressional leaders said today they expected President Roosevelt to send to Congress soon a $280,000,000 defense highway program.

Chairman Cartwright (D-Okla.) of the House Roads committee said the bulk of the program would be to provide access roads to new army training grounds, powder factories and other defense establishments.

A substantial part of the money, Cartwright said, would be earmarked for the repair of state highways damaged during troop maneuvers.

The Oklahoma explained that the program was distinct from the regular federal-aid highway work for which Congress last year provided $227,000,000 for expenditure over a two-year period.

None of the money, he said, would be for so-called super-highways.

"Super-highways are all right in their place," he asserted, "but they should be built through bond issues and financed with tolls like Pennsylvania is doing with its new turnpikes."

The legislator said some "regional" highways might be undertaken under the program if they were definitely linked to defense needs. Specifically, he said a new road from Washington to Baltimore would be one "for consideration."

Fire House Burns Down and Goat Eats Off Part of Tail of a Horse

By GLADWIN HILL
NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—The Special News Service—

The Screwy News championship set of celluloid andrions got this week to the Los Angeles man who walked into the police station with a parrot on his shoulder, a dog in one hand and a box of white rats in the other, to report the theft of $18, a parrot, two love birds and a pound of bologna.

Continuing your dizzy digest: Fire Department . . . The Brooklyn, Pa., fire house burned down . . . but firemen in Savoy, Mass., out of water, saved a burning house by plastering it with snowballs. . .

Animal Antics: . . . Some Oakland, N. J., people held a shower for a cow . . . and in Elizabeth City, N. C., farmer had to take his goat out of the pasture because he was

EX-PANZERMAN SIGNS

Erhard G. Jaeger, 21, former member of a Nazi panzer division, is shown at induction headquarters in Boston, Mass., as he joined the U. S. army. Young Jaeger came to this country in 1937 to study at Harvard, where his father is a professor, but decided to give up his college career to serve his new country.

Harvill Aircraft Strike Settled; Others Continue

Threat of Trouble Renewed by Bethlehem Steel Workers

LOS ANGELES, March 23 (AP)—An agreement to end the ten day old strike at the Harvill aircraft die casting plant, which had threatened to delay or halt production by eight Pacific coast aircraft manufacturing firms, was reached tonight.

Striking CIO workers at the Edgewater, N. J., plant of the Aluminum Company of America voted to accept the request of the OPM to return to work and then continue negotiations regarding overtime provisions in a contract and a general ten-cent an hour wage increase.

Cooperate for Defense
Union spokesmen said the decision of the 3,000 Edgewater workers to go back to their jobs was raised mainly on their desire to cooperate with national defense.

A threat of trouble arose in another quarter, however. Howard Curtiss, director of the CIO's Steel Workers Organizing committee, said union members at the Bethlehem, Pa., plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company would be asked to quit work if ballot boxes for the election of officers for the employees' representation plan were set up in the plant. The voting was scheduled to start today.

Curtiss asserted that "any attempt on the part of the company to promote a company union on (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Thousands Given Free Meal after Plymouth Attack

PLYMOUTH, England, March 23 (AP)—Thousands of free meals were distributed today to residents of twice-bombed Plymouth, some of whom took to the fields and hedges around the city last night after undergoing two straight nights of furious German raids.

The government was speeding rehabilitation work along with the food. Trucks equipped with loud speakers toured the city, telling weary townspeople where they could get food and offering financial aid.

With the coming of dawn, those who fled to the fields and hedges trekked back to the city and its ruins, and some were being removed to other nearby towns by trains and buses.

Lady Astor Scores Hitler
American - born Lady Astor, mayors of Plymouth who has gone about the city in almost constant visit to bombed areas, told the townspeople in a local broadcast (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Congress Urged To Raise Taxes To Pay War Bill

Senate Expected To Vote Seven Billions Appropriation Today

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Opponents of the British Aid program, conceding that the Senate would vote overwhelming approval tomorrow of the $7,000,000,000 appropriation to finance it, demanded today that Congress begin immediate consideration of new taxes to raise this tremendous fund.

Senator Nye (D-ND) said he and some others who had opposed enactment of the Lease-Lend bill, would move later to impose $3,500,000,000 additional taxes annually for the next two years.

On the other hand, Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis), another opponent of the program, said it seemed obvious to him that no such amount could be raised without levying prohibitive taxes that would damage the economic structure of the nation.

Predicts High Taxes

Senator Clark (D-Mo), who announced he would vote against the appropriation, said he planned to tell the Senate in no uncertain terms that unprecedented increases in taxes were likely to follow enactment of the measure, a viewpoint Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) said he shared fully.

Nye conceded that there would be only a "handful" of votes against the $7,000,000,000 bill.

Unchanged since its approval in the House, the measure would be sent directly to the White House if passed by the Senate in its present form.

As approved unanimously by the Senate Appropriations committee yesterday, the measure would provide $1,343,000,000 for ordnance, $2,054,000,000 for aircraft, $362,000,000 for tanks and other vehicles, $629,000,000 for ships, $260,000,000 for miscellaneous equipment and supplies, $752,000,000 for plant expansion and facilities, $1,350,000,000 for purchasing farm and industrial commodities, $200,000,000 for repairing ships, $40,000,000 for unspecified purposes and $10,000,000 for administrative expense.

More Money To Be Asked
Nye said testimony received by the Senate committee in closed sessions led him to conclude that this fund was only one of several that might be requested by the president under authority of the Lease-Lend law.

The House has only minor legislation on its calendar tomorrow, but later in the week may act on a bill to extend the bituminous coal act for another two years. The present law, permitting fixing of minimum prices for coal, expires April 26.

Thousands Given Free Meal after Plymouth Attack

Many Take To Fields To Escape Furious Nazi Raids

PLYMOUTH, England, March 23 (AP)—Thousands of free meals were distributed today to residents of twice-bombed Plymouth, some of whom took to the fields and hedges around the city last night after undergoing two straight nights of furious German raids.

The government was speeding rehabilitation work along with the food. Trucks equipped with loud speakers toured the city, telling weary townspeople where they could get food and offering financial aid.

With the coming of dawn, those who fled to the fields and hedges trekked back to the city and its ruins, and some were being removed to other nearby towns by trains and buses.

Lady Astor Scores Hitler
American - born Lady Astor, mayors of Plymouth who has gone about the city in almost constant visit to bombed areas, told the townspeople in a local broadcast (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

AMERICAN TANKER TORPEDOED OFF AFRICA

Here is a photo of the actual torpedoing of the Standard Oil tanker, Charles Pratt, 200 miles off Freetown, British West Africa. The vessel was traveling under Panamanian registry. Survivors were rescued and brought back to Bayonne, N. J., by another Standard Oil ship. Two sailors were killed when the first torpedo struck without warning.

Lightless Nights May Result from Power Shortage

Federal Commission Says Careful Planning Is Necessary

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—The Federal Power Commission reported to Congress today that "careful planning" was necessary to avert an early power shortage such as caused lightless nights during the 1918 war boom in manufacturing.

In an effort to assure an adequate and dependable supply of electricity to meet defense requirements, the agency said, utilities and the commission are investigating the feasibility of a giant tie-up of high-capacity transmission lines throughout the industrial east.

Fear Power Shortage

The commission's suggestion that the current industrial expansion might cause a power shortage coincided with a report from the commerce department that construction of new factories in the first three months of 1941 had surpassed any similar period in American history.

Lowell J. Chawner, department economist, estimated that if the present rate continued the year's expenditures for plant and equipment would total $3,500,000,000. This would compare with $2,300,000,000 last year, $2,700,000,000 in 1929, $3,200,000,000 in the peak year of 1920 and $2,500,000,000 during the war effort of 1918.

The power commission asked for more rigid control over interstate pipe lines and questioned the de-

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Huge American Bombers Land in Great Britain

Lord Beaverbrook Announces Is Making 3,200 Planes Monthly

By EDWIN STOUT

LONDON, March 23 (AP)—Britain announced today that huge four-motored bombers had landed in England from the United States and that vast, hidden stores of bombers and fighters were ready to take the air in the Battle of Britain.

Secreted in "storage houses distributed everywhere" are the great reserves of bombers and fighters in history, Lord Beaverbrook, minister of aircraft production, declared.

He called it a "record surpassing anything that has gone before, anything in the history of aviation," and added that "this applies to fighters and bombers alike. Both types have reached the highest total in our history."

Although the numbers of British planes are a closely guarded secret, black headlines in the Sunday Chronicle proclaimed that Britain now is producing 3,200 of all types each month and that her production peak has not yet been reached.

First Bombers From U. S.
Arrival of the first giant bombers from the United States with range enough to bring the remotest corners of German-dominated territory into the Royal Air Force's target area was disclosed in a communique from Lord Beaverbrook's ministry.

It did not give the time or number of the arrivals but said the first to come were what the British call "Liberators"—long-range, heavy bombers produced by the

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

RAF Smashes at Nazi Port; Block Of Barracks Hit

British Also Damage German Escort Vessel near Brest

LONDON, March 23 (AP)—The RAF rode the wind down the French coast from Calais to Brittany today for a smashing attack on the port of Quiberon, close to the Nazi submarine base of Lorient, the government announced.

A communique said high explosives destroyed a German barracks block in the town while another bomb was sent crashing into a German ship.

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

British Capture Important Town In So. Ethiopia

Take Neghelli and Raid Other Sections, Cairo Reports

CAIRO, Egypt, March 23 (AP)—British forces driving north to Addis Ababa from Kenya colony and Italian Somaliland have captured the strategically important southern Ethiopian town of Neghelli, a British communique announced today.

As the fast mechanized columns which started the northward march from Dolo and Mega early this month closed in on Neghelli, planes of the RAF and the South African Air Force raided other Ethiopian towns, bombed and machinegunned trains on the Addis Ababa-Jibuti railway and pounded at the Marda Pass defenses in the Jijiga area south of the railway.

The communique also reported some local successes in Eritrea where the British have besieged the railroad town of Cheren, which bars the road to Asmara, the capital.

In the area of Jijiga which the British captured last week a fresh drive was going on towards Harar, provincial walled capital. The next step beyond that was expected to be Dire Dawa on the Addis Ababa-Jibuti railroad which the British hope to cut.

Thousands Parade, Army Is Restless and Signing Of Agreement Is Delayed

Widespread Demonstrations against Alliance with Berlin and Rome Make Selection of Cabinet in Favor of Granting Demands Extremely Difficult; Greece Sounds Warning

Matsuoka Visits Moscow on Way To See Hitler

Japan's Foreign Minister May Later Go to London, Rome, Washington

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, March 23 (AP)—Yoshiro Matsuoka, Japan's foreign minister, arrived here today for a one-day stopover en route to Berlin and Rome Axis conferences, and said he would like to stay longer "to meet leaders here" on his return trip to Tokyo.

Matsuoka spoke at an interview in the Japanese embassy three hours after receiving a courteous but unostentatious welcome to the Soviet Russian capital.

Some Japanese authorities suggested before his departure that he continue his trip from Berlin and Rome to London and Washington, Matsuoka said, but he added that "I do not have that in mind."

No Definite Plans

The Japanese minister said he had no definite itinerary or plans, but hoped his trip would not take more than six weeks. He related that the German and Italian foreign ministers, Joachim von Ribbentrop and Count Galeazzo Ciano, invited him by telephone to make the voyage immediately after the signing of the three-power treaty last Sept. 27.

The tri-partite pact is the greatest foreign instrument for Japan," Matsuoka said. "Japanese foreign policy will revolve around it as a pivot."

"Now, it is natural for the foreign minister of Japan, who had something to do with conclusion of the pact, to meet and know the leaders of the other countries. That might make a big difference in carrying out the pact in the future."

Yet To Meet Hitler

Matsuoka said he already knew Premier Mussolini and Count Ciano but had not yet met Adolf Hitler and von Ribbentrop and regarded personal acquaintance with them as "of very great importance."

"In history," he asserted, "personal acquaintance has sometimes decided the issue of war or peace. I would like to hear what these leaders have to say and, perhaps, also have occasion to say what I have in mind."

He will "pay respects to the government here" in a call arranged for tomorrow on Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov.

Not Interested in Any Candidates In 1942 or 1944, Willkie Asserts

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie said tonight he was "not the slightest interested" in this time in the candidacy of any one for any office in 1942 or 1944.

He made the statement when asked to comment on the assertion of an unidentified Republican National committeeman in Washington that the Republican 1940 presidential candidate was "not interested" in running for president in 1944. The committeeman speculated that Willkie might support Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota for the nomination.

A gubernatorial election in New York is among those to be held in 1942.

"Civilization Faces Test"

"Civilization is facing one of its crucial moments," Willkie said,

(By The Associated Press)

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, March 24 (Monday)—Yugoslavia government leaders, beset by angry demonstrations throughout the kingdom, failed early today to complete a cabinet agreement to capitulation to Adolf Hitler and thus their plans to sign with the Axis in Vienna tomorrow were scrambled again.

Regent Prince Paul, his premier, Draga Ovetkovic, and his foreign minister, Aleksander Cincar-Markovic, retired shortly after midnight without issuing an expected communique announcing that the cabinet crisis had been solved.

Instead, a spokesman said "there will be nothing tonight"—and the lights and heat on the special train intended to carry the signatory delegation to Vienna were turned off.

Early Agreement Off

Early Sunday evening it was reported the government, bowing to German pressure, had settled its troubles and the names of the new cabinet members chosen to fill three vacancies would be announced.

But the hours passed with the three government chiefs still in conferences and finally they gave it up for the night without an announcement.

Authoritative sources said the number of conferees indicated the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Nazis Continue To Attack Malta

BERLIN, March 23 (AP)—Three air attacks in two days on Malta, Britain's mid-Mediterranean island base, and scattered new blows on British shipping from the North Atlantic to the Eastern Mediterranean were reported by the German today.

Nazi dive bombers bore down on the Maltese harbor of Valetta today, blasted harbor facilities in a virtual spray of bombs and crippled a British cruiser and large passenger ship, German fliers said.

Attacking twice Saturday, the high command said, fighter-equipped Nazi combat groups scored hits on ships and anti-aircraft positions.

The communique said seven British Hurricane fighters were shot down. Efforts of today's raid said heavy anti-aircraft fire was encountered but no British fighter planes appeared.

At least 19,000 tons of British shipping were claimed as sunk or damaged in widespread air operations over a two-day span.

German press dispatches said a 6,000-ton freighter was brought to a stop shrouded in smoke after a bomb hit amidships today near the Shetland Islands, off Northeast Scotland.

Not Interested in Any Candidates In 1942 or 1944, Willkie Asserts

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie said tonight he was "not the slightest interested" in this time in the candidacy of any one for any office in 1942 or 1944.

He made the statement when asked to comment on the assertion of an unidentified Republican National committeeman in Washington that the Republican 1940 presidential candidate was "not interested" in running for president in 1944. The committeeman speculated that Willkie might support Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota for the nomination.

A gubernatorial election in New York is among those to be held in 1942.

"Civilization Faces Test"

"Civilization is facing one of its crucial moments," Willkie said,

Draft Now Taking 50,000 Recruits To Camp Monthly

Plans Being Considered for Another Registration Next Fall

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—The army, having overcome many early difficulties in camp construction, is now taking selective service men at the rate of 50,000 a month.

Including this today, selective service headquarters said the induction average for the first four months of the training program was around 30,000 men a month. Moreover, a headquarters official said the present rate falls far short of utilizing the full capacity of the system. "In fact," he asserted, "we are now so well organized that if we were called upon to do it, we could take 50,000 men in fifteen days. All we would have to do would be to press a button and the local boards all over the country would go into action."

Could Do Other Work
This official added that the organization also was ready, should need arise, to handle national projects other than the draft. It could count workers, register women for defense service or otherwise aid in the preparedness program, he said. First selective service trainees were called last November and the local induction to date is 265,000. Together with 487,000 regulars, 268,000 national guardsmen and 38,000 reserve officers these form the United States army of today, a total of 1,038,000.

Approximately 400,000 men, according to present war department plans, will be added before July 1 to create the maximum force now planned unless the emergency becomes much more serious—1,418,000 men. Officials said the great majority of these would come from the selective service rolls so that peak operations would continue until mid-summer at least.

New Draft in Fall
Shortly thereafter the system may have to undertake its next big job, registration of the 900,000 odd youths who have become twenty-one since the first registration was held last October.

President Roosevelt will fix the date upon recommendations of his selective service advisers. How to determine the order in which these new registrants will be called for service already is occasioning formal discussion at headquarters here. Some consideration is being given to the idea of having two lotteries. One would determine the order of the 200,000 among themselves and the second would determine their places among the 16,404,000 men aged twenty-one to thirty-five who signed up last October.

Officials expect completion of this second registration may clear the way for them to give serious study to proposals for amending the Selective Service act. Major General Lewis B. Hershey, acting director, said recently he favored fixing the registration age at eighteen with a year's training any time during the ensuing five-year period, the exact time to be at the discretion of the registrant.

Huge American

(Continued from Page 1)

Consolidated Aircraft Corporation of San Diego, Calif.

These planes, with a power plant of four Pratt and Whitney engines which develop 1,200 horsepower at the take-off, are said to have a range of 3,000 miles—enough to bomb any point in Italy, Germany or Nazi occupied countries from RAF bases in England.

They could fly non-stop from England to Egypt or from England to Sofia, Bulgaria, and back and are credited with a top speed of 335 miles an hour.

Lord Beaverbrook, speaking to the nation by radio, told it the tally of reserves was made last Wednesday and disclosed these technical gains in aviation:

Reports Great Gains
1. In the race for altitude, British scientists have "watched" Hurricane and Spitfire (fighters) being lifted up and up until now these airplanes ride high, wide and handsome.
2. Two new planes "at this moment are passing from the development stage to production" and behind these are several other new types.
3. Five new motors "have been brought from experiment to manufacture in nine months."

As British experts counted on growing air strength and continental weather conditions to throw the Germans' air-and-sea campaign to blockade these islands out of stride, millions of Britons joined in the belief of King George VI in an Empire Day of prayer for divine favor in the battle of the Atlantic.

Special services were held in 30,000 Catholic and Protestant churches in Britain and in thousands of other churches, temples and mosques throughout the empire. King George in the uniform of a field marshal took Queen Elizabeth and their two daughters to worship in a small country church.

Weather Curb Germans
All observers said variable flying weather over northwest Europe might impose a serious check on the German bid to back submarine and surface raids.

NEW NAVY PATROL BOMBER ON TEST FLIGHT

The new navy flying boat, PB2Y, is shown on a test run preparatory to putting the craft into mass production. The plane was built by the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation at San Diego. It is 115 feet from wingtip to wingtip, weighs 30 tons, and carries a normal crew of nine.

"blitz" raids on Britain's ports.

Both Lord Beaverbrook and a fellow cabinet member, Board of Trade President Oliver Lyttelton, stressed the value of United States aid and both touched on what is to come after the war.

The United States' provision of arms and planes for Britain, Lyttelton told an Aldershot audience, "is the most generous gesture that has ever been made."

Of the world after this war, Lyttelton said no nation or alliance of nations could "engage upon any raids upon their neighbors" or disturb world peace "if they were faced by the great mass of English speaking people."

Lord Beaverbrook said close collaboration between the United States and Britain was the "growing good" made possible by the war.

He credited Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt, Canadian Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King and the resistance of the British people with having brought it about.

RAF Smashes

(Continued from Page 1)

man escort vessel—an anti-aircraft ship—near Brest.

Two of the bombs which hit the barracks exploded simultaneously, the air ministry news service said, and with such terrific force that a British plane 1,000 feet above was shaken.

There was some aerial activity over Britain itself, and an official announcement said "two enemy bombers" were destroyed, one by anti-aircraft fire in North Scotland, the other by RAF fighters in South England.

Another raid crashed in flames near Arundel, South England. Two crewmen were imprisoned. Some homes on the south coast were damaged by bombs in the evening when four raiders tried to cross the coast.

On the whole though the day was quiet. Mist covered the Strait of Dover.

In Plymouth, which suffered heavy raids Thursday and Friday night, demolition, salvage and rescue squads still worked to unearth the dead buried under the debris.

Harvill Aircraft

(Continued from Page 1)

company property will be met with a walk-out. The Labor Board has directed the company to disestablish the union but the company has appealed to federal court. Bethlehem has more than $1,000,000,000 in defense contracts.

In Chicago 1,386 policemen, nearly one-fourth of the city's force, were ordered on duty for the reopening today of the McCormick works of the International Harvester Company. A CIO strike over union recognition, wage and other demands has closed the plant for three weeks.

The company decided to reopen after obtaining an injunction against mass picketing and an AFL organizer said that 4,000 AFL members "will go into the plant and nothing will stop them."

Thousands of peasants gave an ovation to one of the outgoing cabinet men, Minister of Agriculture Branko Cubrilovic, when he arrived at his home town of Banja Luka.

At Kragujevac, the center of a

INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

The reported raids by two Nazi battleships on North Atlantic convoys face the British admiralty with a problem of supreme urgency, besides pointing up the mounting seriousness of Adolf Hitler's all-out attempt to smash Britain at sea.

Unless these can be brought to book promptly and the foray of other raiders discouraged, the battle of the Atlantic threatens barely at the outset of its climactic phase to take a turn toward the desperate from the British viewpoint.

Just five British capital ships have both the speed and the gunpower to run down and put out of action the 26,000-ton Scharnhorst and the Gneisenau which London says are roaming the high seas.

Four Other Raiders
And besides these two Nazi marauders, there are probably four others whose eleven and fifteen-inch guns are too powerful for the cruisers and destroyers which normally escort convoys.

After the losses of the Norwegian campaign and the ill-fated voyage of the Graf Spee, there is little reason to believe that Hitler should be hesitant to risk his navy recklessly to supplement the blows of U-boats and bombers.

The chances are that the British admiralty already has at sea some or all five of the logical pursuers—the new battleships King George V and Prince of Wales, and the battle cruisers Hood, Repulse and Renown—in the hope of a decisive meeting.

Berlin's militant report that the Nazi squadron has sunk twenty-two ships totalling 112,000 tons may or government was finding almost impossible its task of getting men to sign the capitulation document.

Thousands

(Continued from Page 1)

If Prince Paul succeeds in breaking the deadlock late this morning there still would be time for the train to reach Vienna by the hour set for the signing.

But in view of the evidently increasing difficulties accentuated by the widespread demonstrations in the provinces against any alliance with Germany and Italy, government circles expressed doubt that the schedule would be kept.

Thousands Parade
Tens of thousands of Yugoslav men and women paraded and sang in demonstrations against the projected pact.

The army itself was reported restless. High military quarters said young Serb officers especially showed "great discontent" over the alleged statement of the war minister to the cabinet that Yugoslavia must bow to Adolf Hitler because the army is not prepared to fight.

Out of the welter of rumors and reports in this restless capital to-night emerged only one apparent authoritative report—a semi-official announcement that a delegation would leave by special train tomorrow for Vienna to sign the pact with Germany.

No Sign of Departing
But it was recalled that such an announcement Saturday said the delegation would leave tonight—and the special train waited at the station throughout the evening without showing any sign of departure.

Another factor thrust into the turbulent situation was a report in authoritative diplomatic circles that Greece had warned Yugoslavia against giving Germany permission, as provided in the proposed pact, to send sealed trains across the country carrying war materials and wounded men.

These circles said Greece informed Yugoslavia such permission would be a "hostile act."

The announcement tonight said the special train carrying Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic and other government leaders would leave at noon (7 a. m. E. S. T. Monday) tomorrow for Vienna.

Plan Huge Demonstration
Immediately the report spread that opposition leaders were planning a huge demonstration tomorrow. The time was kept secret but it was believed that it might coincide with the time planned for the train's departure.

No acts of violence were reported up to late tonight but from towns and villages throughout Serbia, Croatia and Slovenia came reports of street demonstrations.

In some towns, the reports said, as many as 30,000 persons gathered in the streets, cheering the three ministers who resigned from the cabinet in protest against the projected capitulation to Germany and Italy.

Thousands of peasants gave an ovation to one of the outgoing cabinet men, Minister of Agriculture Branko Cubrilovic, when he arrived at his home town of Banja Luka.

At Kragujevac, the center of a

First, they said, the United States and Britain would freeze Yugoslav's gold and foreign exchange supply held in those two countries.

Second, the British would seize all Yugoslav ships in the Mediterranean and elsewhere. These ships constituted the largest neutral merchant fleet allowed to navigate freely, they said, and is making rich profits as a result.

Third, Yugoslavia would immediately lose her free port privileges at Salonika in Greece.

Yugoslav leaders who have been rebelling against the proposed capitulation to Germany pointed out that the country would be subject to three acts of retaliation if it gives in.

One need not be unduly pessimistic over the course of the sea war to recognize that it is heading rapidly toward a crisis fully as serious as the land battle of France and that it inevitably must intensify the pressure on the United States to supply naval aid as in 1917.

The British may well be minimizing the shipping losses as much as their foes exaggerate. Admiral William Sims of the United States navy found this to be true when he went to England just after America's entry into the World war.

The Nazis have greatly increased the strain on British naval resources by extending the sea warfare into the South Atlantic and the Mediterranean.

Danger from Luftwaffe
Still another consideration is that attacks and threats from the Luftwaffe have limited sharply the strength of the forces General Sir Archibald Wavell has dared move across the Mediterranean into Greece. These have been estimated as high as 300,000, but authoritative information is that they may be only a third, that figure.

British and American leaders, nevertheless, retain confidence that Britain will win through this crisis.

Winning through in this instance is shaping up into a matter of endurance and hammering by air at the bases of Nazi surface, U-boat and air raiders until British and American bombers and other weapons become available in sufficient large Serb district, a crowd said to number 10,000 paraded the streets, singing old Serb rebel songs.

Parade Near Greek Border
Another crowd of 10,000 demonstrated at Skopje, in Southern Serbia near the Greek frontier.

Telegrams to regent Prince Paul and Premier Cvetkovic from Yugoslavians all over the world, calling for resistance to the Axis, flooded into the capital.

Many Yugoslav societies in America sent messages of protest and congratulations to the three resigned cabinet ministers.

Some of the protesting politicians, authors and world war heroes in the kingdom even telephoned Prince Paul's palace and the premier's office to register their views.

Though the special train stood ready for hours tonight, it was not until nearly midnight that it was made known the train would leave tomorrow.

It was reported Saturday that two men prevailed upon to accept cabinet posts and a cabinet member drafted to take the third vacant post in addition to his own ministry were to be sworn in today—but the day passed without such a ceremony.

An agreement such as the Axis pact requires the unanimous support of the cabinet under Yugoslavia's constitution.

Besides the premier, it was reported, the Vienna party would include Vice Premier Vladimir Macek, foreign minister Aleksander Cincar-Markovic and important Yugoslav editors.

It was reported in government quarters yesterday that Hitler was growing impatient with the Yugoslavians and had given them until tonight.

No definite hour was set for the reported deadline, however, and it appeared until just before midnight that the Yugoslavians had let the ultimatum go without an answer.

Then, suddenly, came the semi-official announcement of the new time of departure for the special train, apparently satisfying at least partly the reported Nazi insistence on speed.

Premier Cvetkovic was closeted for three hours in a secret conference with regent Prince Paul at the White palace this afternoon.

Greek objection to the German-supported plan to let Nazi trains across this country was based on the contention that it would be military assistance to Germany and would permit Greece's enemies to ship war materials to Greece's frontiers with Yugoslavia and Albania.

Sealed Trains for Troops
The Greeks pointed out that sealed trains sooner or later probably would be carrying soldiers as well as supplies.

British quarters said Prince Paul, himself pro-British, had been told Yugoslav capitulation would alienate the sympathy of the British empire, the United States, Greece and possibly Soviet Russia.

In connection with the Soviet attitude, there was an unconfirmed report that Russia's Balkan expert, Arkady A. Soboleff, secretary general of the Moscow foreign office, had arrived here with Russian Minister Victor Plotnikoff, who has been in Moscow since January. The Russian legation refused comment on this report.

Yugoslav leaders who have been rebelling against the proposed capitulation to Germany pointed out that the country would be subject to three acts of retaliation if it gives in.

First, they said, the United States and Britain would freeze Yugoslav's gold and foreign exchange supply held in those two countries.

Second, the British would seize all Yugoslav ships in the Mediterranean and elsewhere. These ships constituted the largest neutral merchant fleet allowed to navigate freely, they said, and is making rich profits as a result.

Third, Yugoslavia would immediately lose her free port privileges at Salonika in Greece.

Yugoslav leaders who have been rebelling against the proposed capitulation to Germany pointed out that the country would be subject to three acts of retaliation if it gives in.

First, they said, the United States and Britain would freeze Yugoslav's gold and foreign exchange supply held in those two countries.

Second, the British would seize all Yugoslav ships in the Mediterranean and elsewhere. These ships constituted the largest neutral merchant fleet allowed to navigate freely, they said, and is making rich profits as a result.

Third, Yugoslavia would immediately lose her free port privileges at Salonika in Greece.

Yugoslav leaders who have been rebelling against the proposed capitulation to Germany pointed out that the country would be subject to three acts of retaliation if it gives in.

First, they said, the United States and Britain would freeze Yugoslav's gold and foreign exchange supply held in those two countries.

Second, the British would seize all Yugoslav ships in the Mediterranean and elsewhere. These ships constituted the largest neutral merchant fleet allowed to navigate freely, they said, and is making rich profits as a result.

Third, Yugoslavia would immediately lose her free port privileges at Salonika in Greece.

Yugoslav leaders who have been rebelling against the proposed capitulation to Germany pointed out that the country would be subject to three acts of retaliation if it gives in.

First, they said, the United States and Britain would freeze Yugoslav's gold and foreign exchange supply held in those two countries.

Second, the British would seize all Yugoslav ships in the Mediterranean and elsewhere. These ships constituted the largest neutral merchant fleet allowed to navigate freely, they said, and is making rich profits as a result.

Third, Yugoslavia would immediately lose her free port privileges at Salonika in Greece.

Yugoslav leaders who have been rebelling against the proposed capitulation to Germany pointed out that the country would be subject to three acts of retaliation if it gives in.

2 Nazi Officers Caught on Border After Jail Break

Returned to Cells in Canada When Caught by U. S. Patrol

OTTAWA, March 23. (AP)—Two German naval officers who were intercepted midway across the frozen St. Lawrence river by the U. S. border patrol on an audacious and elaborately planned escape attempt were back in prison tonight at old Fort Henry after being refused entry into the United States.

At the end of their frustrated flight it was disclosed that the pair had established a new record of some sort as escape artists, for they had to break into a locked cell to make their getaway.

Discover Escape Evidence
The cell was sealed some time Friday when it was discovered that a stone had been loosened with freedom of thought. All the occupants were removed pending repairs.

Apparently the two broke into the locked cell Friday evening, removed the loosened stone and crawled out through the wall. Guards captured two accomplices in the cell before they could get away.

Royal Canadian Mounted and Ontario Provincial police and camp guards started a hot pursuit and were close behind when the men were apprehended just before midnight by the U. S. border patrol.

Not Arrested in U. S.
Officials emphasized that the Germans (identified in Washington by the department of justice as Bernhard Gohke and Heinz Rottman) had not been arrested on a charge of entering the United States illegally.

"It was a case of knocking at the front door and asking to get in and admission was refused," one official said. The procedure was compared, illustratively, with that involving Canadians traveling to the United States. Canadians are permitted to cross the border to the first U. S. immigration office but if their papers are not in order they are returned to Canada.

Heavy Cruiser
(Continued from Page 1)
850-ton British warship London, but classifies it as a cruiser.

Commander Mercer said the port of Chester "might easily refer to Chester, Nova Scotia, instead of Chester, Pa. The Sun Shipbuilding and Drydock Company is located at Chester, Pa."

All navy and maritime sources along the Delaware river declared no foreign warship had gone up the river to Chester.

The British freighter, Narragansett, is now undergoing repairs at Chester, Pa. Members of the crew said the ship, which came into port a week ago, was shelled by a submarine.

Cannot Dock at Baltimore
"Local ship repair officials who knew of the ship's arrival," The Baltimore Sun continued, "said that she draws too much water to be handled in Baltimore harbor."

"At the same time they let it be known 'that they have plans to handle repairs to light cruisers, destroyers, auxiliaries, and convoy escort craft in general.'"

The Norfolk yard, the newspaper asserted, has plans in readiness to speed such repairs to completion by working twenty-four hours a day.

Yards in Baltimore and elsewhere on the Atlantic coast, the Sun said, generally were surveyed by an examining board of high-ranking U. S. navy officials "with a view to definitely ascertaining what volume of repair work could be handled for the Royal navy."

The Sun said it had no definite information the cruiser reported enroute to Norfolk had been damaged in battle, adding:

"The local yards are in a position to care for seasonal and periodic repairs to British naval craft quickly."

"The indications are that the first craft to be repaired here are even now on their way across the Atlantic serving as escorts of convoys moving light to American ports to pick up munitions of war."

Will Speed Transfers
"Moreover, the arrival here of British warships will be the signal for the speeding of the transfer of American naval vessels for replacement."

"It is said that crews from the ships undergoing repairs will be transferred immediately to the American war craft made available to the British."

"The craft of the Royal navy are described as having taken bad beatings of late with enforced runs at high speed and continuous escort duty the wear and tear has been much greater than in normal operations."

"Authoritative sources here declare that the program contemplates moving convoys out of principal American ports for British destinations" instead of from Canadian ports.

"As the warships are repaired," the newspaper said, "they can move out with merchantmen and escort them over divers routes to England, thus forcing the Germans to spread their efforts so thin that it will be ineffective as compared with the concentration they now center on the lanes from Halifax east."

Willie Heads Party
There was general agreement among the committeemen that Wendell L. Willie, the 1940 presidential nominee, should be regarded as titular head of the party. Several said that Willie's support of administration foreign policies had found favor with many rank-and-file party members.

Cyrus McCormick, the New Mexico committeeman, told reporters that "nobody can avoid the fact that Willie was our last nominee and that, as such, he is the boss of the Republicans."

McCormick declared that Republicans in his section "are for Roosevelt's foreign policy" as the best means of keeping out of war. He added that since Willie supported that policy he had the backing of New Mexico Republicans.

One committeeman, who talked recently with Willie, reported that the former nominee was "not interested" in running for president again in 1944. This spokesman speculated that Willie might support Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota for the nomination.

Local Woman Fined On Assault Charge
Mrs. Effie Keller, of South Cumberland, was fined $1 and costs Saturday in trial magistrates court on an assault charge preferred by

Wind Turbine To Be Used To Make Electric Power

Engineers Hope To Harness Mountain Winds in Vermont

HUBBARDTOWN, Vt., March 23. (AP)—A giant wind turbine, designed to test the feasibility of harnessing mountain winds as another source of commercial electric power and a possible adjunct of national defense, neared completion today atop Freeze Grandpa's Knob in the Green Mountains.

With the erection of a 110-foot steel tower, and the acquisition of two twenty-two-ton blades that will give the structure features of both an oldtime windmill and a sleek army bomber, engineers said assembly would advance quickly and that the turbine might be ready for trial about June 1.

S. D. Dombrier, superintendent of field erection for the S. Morgan Smith Company, of York, Pa., owner of the turbine, said it was "the only one of its size and kind that we know about in the United States."

Plans for the lofty station call for the generation of 1,000 kilowatts of power, sufficient to light five 100-watt lamps apiece for 2,000 families.

The engineers also declare that a series of such wind turbines, distributed through the hills, would be less vulnerable to air attack than equivalent generating capacity in a single generating station.

When placed on the tower, the giant blades—assembled like the propeller of an airplane and resembling the wings of a bomber—will have a wing-spread of 180 feet.

Heavy Cruiser
(Continued from Page 1)
850-ton British warship London, but classifies it as a cruiser.

Commander Mercer said the port of Chester "might easily refer to Chester, Nova Scotia, instead of Chester, Pa. The Sun Shipbuilding and Drydock Company is located at Chester, Pa."

All navy and maritime sources along the Delaware river declared no foreign warship had gone up the river to Chester.

The British freighter, Narragansett, is now undergoing repairs at Chester, Pa. Members of the crew said the ship, which came into port a week ago, was shelled by a submarine.

Cannot Dock at Baltimore
"Local ship repair officials who knew of the ship's arrival," The Baltimore Sun continued, "said that she draws too much water to be handled in Baltimore harbor."

"At the same time they let it be known 'that they have plans to handle repairs to light cruisers, destroyers, auxiliaries, and convoy escort craft in general.'"

The Norfolk yard, the newspaper asserted, has plans in readiness to speed such repairs to completion by working twenty-four hours a day.

Yards in Baltimore and elsewhere on the Atlantic coast, the Sun said, generally were surveyed by an examining board of high-ranking U. S. navy officials "with a view to definitely ascertaining what volume of repair work could be handled for the Royal navy."

The Sun said it had no definite information the cruiser reported enroute to Norfolk had been damaged in battle, adding:

"The local yards are in a position to care for seasonal and periodic repairs to British naval craft quickly."

"The indications are that the first craft to be repaired here are even now on their way across the Atlantic serving as escorts of convoys moving light to American ports to pick up munitions of war."

Will Speed Transfers
"Moreover, the arrival here of British warships will be the signal for the speeding of the transfer of American naval vessels for replacement."

"It is said that crews from the ships undergoing repairs will be transferred immediately to the American war craft made available to the British."

"The craft of the Royal navy are described as having taken bad beatings of late with enforced runs at high speed and continuous escort duty the wear and tear has been much greater than in normal operations."

"Authoritative sources here declare that the program contemplates moving convoys out of principal American ports for British destinations" instead of from Canadian ports.

"As the warships are repaired," the newspaper said, "they can move out with merchantmen and escort them over divers routes to England, thus forcing the Germans to spread their efforts so thin that it will be ineffective as compared with the concentration they now center on the lanes from Halifax east."

Willie Heads Party
There was general agreement among the committeemen that Wendell L. Willie, the 1940 presidential nominee, should be regarded as titular head of the party. Several said that Willie's support of administration foreign policies had found favor with many rank-and-file party members.

Cyrus McCormick, the New Mexico committeeman, told reporters that "nobody can avoid the fact that Willie was our last nominee and that, as such, he is the boss of the

Robert Taylor Will Have Lead in Radio Drama

Green Star Will Appear with Ruth Hussey in C.B.S. Theater

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD
Associated Press Radio Editor
NEW YORK, March 23.—Robert Taylor from the screen will supply the male lead for "Flight Command," the play to be displayed in the CBS Radio Theater at 9 o'clock Monday night. Opposite him will be Ruth Hussey. Each will take the same roles they did when this story was dramatized.

Changes in schedule and the like are to take place Monday, among them being these:

CBS 9:45 a. m. Hymns of All Churches with Joe Emerson and Betty Crocker, moved from NBC-RED; NBC-RED 2:15 New music thriller, the Mystery Man, with dramatizations of famous detective stories; CBS 6 New time for Edwin C. Hill's column.

Crooks at Miami
A few items from here and there on the list: NBC-BLUE 2:30 Rochester Civic orchestra, excerpts from symphonies; NBC-RED 10:30 National Radio Forum with Sen. Harry S. Truman of Missouri discussing the forthcoming state committee investigation of the national defense program.

War development: CBS 8:30 a. m. 8:30, 8:55, 10:45 east p. m. mid; NBC-BLUE 8:55 a. m. 4:55, 6:45, 9:55, 10:10 p. m. NBC-RED 6:25, 7:15 p. m. MBS 10:11, 11:45 a. m. 2, 5, 8:30, 10 a. m. 12:30 p. m.

Discussion: CBS 3:45 Lecture Hall with Harry and Bonaro Overstreet; NBC-RED 6 Citizens all, "Safety" for What and From What? NBC-BLUE 10:30 National Radio Forum with Sen. Harry S. Truman of Missouri discussing the forthcoming state committee investigation of the national defense program.

Listings by Networks
NBC-RED—1 p. m. Gordon Gifford's baritone; 3:30 Peppé Young and Family; 5:45 Life Can Be Beautiful; 8:30 Reverbs by salon orchestra; 8:45 Melton concert; 9:30 The Quiz; 9:30 Showboat with radio; 10:30 Contested Continent from Chicago; CBS—11 a. m. Buddy Clark's beat time; 3 p. m. Mary Margaret and the 5 CBS Concert; orchestra; 6:15 Hedda Hopper talks Hollywood and stage; 7:30 (west 10:30) Bondie with Dagwood; 8:30 The Weave serial; 8:30 The Gay Nineties; 9:30 Guy Lombardo and orchestra; 11:15 Golden Gate quartet.

NBC-BLUE—12:30 p. m. Farm and home hour; 2:15 Alma Kittell's release; 4:15 Club matinee; 8:15 The Mystery; 8:30 True or False; 9:30 You're in the Army Now; 9:30 The Street swings it; 10:15 First Piano quartet.

MBS—11:30 a. m. Choir Loft; 1 p. m. Hour of Serials; 2:30 Radio Garden club; 3:15 Macon's Music Parade; 6:30 Songs from Lowry Miller; 7:15 Here's that Morgan; 8:45 Looking at You; 10:30 The Great Melody by Henry Webber; Dance and news spots.

the Radio Clock

MONDAY, MARCH 24

Eastern Standard P. M.—Subtract One Hour for CST, 2 Hrs. for MT.

Changes in programs are listed due to the fact that the following are scheduled:

4:55—Life Can Be Beautiful—NBC-RED 10:30 National Radio Forum with Sen. Harry S. Truman of Missouri discussing the forthcoming state committee investigation of the national defense program.

Miss Pauline McKenzie entertained the S. and N. Club Thursday evening at her home, Graham town. Card prizes were won by Mrs. Donald Jeffries and Mrs. Harry Eisel. A buffet luncheon was served.

The Ladies Social Club of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will hold a dance Monday evening March 24 at the lodge room for members and their friends. Music will be by the Aristocrats.

The Borden Shaft Homesteaders met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Margaret Miller with Mrs. Elaine Miller in charge. Plans for a bazaar to be held Thursday afternoon at Tippen's hall. Mrs. Clarabelle Rank will entertain the club April 17.

Mr. and Mrs. George Loar, Loar town, announce the birth of a daughter Friday at Miner's hospital.

Frostburg Personals
R. Hilary Lancaster who suffered a head injury several weeks ago in a fall on the ice, is rapidly improving.

Mrs. Earle, wife of Dr. Alexander Earle, who had been visiting in Richmond, Va., spent the week-end here.

Mrs. Ruth Whitefield, 35 First street, is a surgical patient at Miner's hospital.

Miss Irma Lapp has returned from New York.

Miss Hilda Spitznas cashier at the American Store is out after being ill for a week with influenza.

Work Will

(Continued from Page 7)

"Grandmother."

Pageant Is Given

Miss Lulu Seifarth, a teacher at Beall elementary school, had charge of the weekly assembly Friday afternoon when a pageant, "America's Song," was presented by the following pupils: Anna Evans, Josephine Whetstone, Dorothy Crump, Gladys Hendrix, James Spitznas, Cleo Davis, William Robertson, Mary Lou Grose, Angles Footen, Amy Meek, Joanne Krieder, Jane Gattens, Jane Willets, Laurel Kriebitzburg, Walter Sonnenberg, Gilbert Rice, Helen Price and Eva Mae Crosby.

Shower Is Held

Miss Regina Nolan and Mrs. Felix Foote entertained with a miscellaneous shower Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens, National, for Mrs. John Stevens, the former Miss Kathryn Stevens, who was recently married.

Others present were Mrs. Arthur Lemmer, Miss Mary Lemmer and Mrs. George Charles, Mt. Savage; Mrs. James Morton, Frostburg; Mrs. Lawrence Secrist, Mrs. Anna Baker and James Baker, National; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shaw, Miss Jean Shaw, Mrs. Harry Shaw, Miss Norma Lee Shaw, Mrs. William Shaw and Mrs. Earl O'Halloran, Moscow; Mrs. Margaret Wilson, Nipek; Mrs. Felix Foote, Sr. and Mrs. Bea Davidson and Felix T. Foote, Jr., Lonaconing; Vernon Kight, Gilmore, and John Edwards, National.

Legion Has Party

A C. Stewart, E. J. Ryan, Mrs. W. O. McLeane and Mrs. Joseph Durst were the speakers Friday evening at the twenty-second anniversary dinner and dance of Faraday Post, American Legion. The affair was largely attended.

Married in Church

Miss Modestine Arnone, daughter of Joseph Arnone, Eckhart, and Anthony Ingles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ingles, Chicago, were married Wednesday at St. Michael's church by the Rev. Dominic A. Bonomo, assistant pastor. The bride wore navy blue and a corsage of white gardenias. Orient Arnone, brother of the bride, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Ingles will reside in Chicago, where Mr. Ingles is employed by the Common Worth Edison Company.

Motorist Injured

William Robinson, 40, of 210 First street, Frostburg, was treated at Miner's hospital last night for abrasions about the face which he suffered when the car he was driving collided with another machine. The accident occurred at the corner of Grant and Main street, street, Frank Nairn, Jr., driver of the other car, was uninjured. Corp. John H. Doud, of the state police, investigated.

Frostburg Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Edmunds, West Main street, who purchased the brick residence at the corner of East Main and Lee streets, from Mr. and Mrs. Lester Engle several months ago, are having the property improved in preparation for making their home there.

The Misses Anna Walbert, Phyllis Geis, Lydia Carter and Mary Elizabeth Fakin went to Baltimore to take the state board examination for beauticians.

Miss Pauline McKenzie entertained the S. and N. Club Thursday evening at her home, Graham town. Card prizes were won by Mrs. Donald Jeffries and Mrs. Harry Eisel. A buffet luncheon was served.

The Ladies Social Club of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will hold a dance Monday evening March 24 at the lodge room for members and their friends. Music will be by the Aristocrats.

The Borden Shaft Homesteaders met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Margaret Miller with Mrs. Elaine Miller in charge. Plans for a bazaar to be held Thursday afternoon at Tippen's hall. Mrs. Clarabelle Rank will entertain the club April 17.

Mr. and Mrs. George Loar, Loar town, announce the birth of a daughter Friday at Miner's hospital.

Mrs. Earle, wife of Dr. Alexander Earle, who had been visiting in Richmond, Va., spent the week-end here.

Mrs. Ruth Whitefield, 35 First street, is a surgical patient at Miner's hospital.

Miss Irma Lapp has returned from New York.

Miss Hilda Spitznas cashier at the American Store is out after being ill for a week with influenza.

Betty Brann Weds
LAS VEGAS, Nev., March 23. (AP)—Betty Brann, daughter of W. L. Brann, wealthy Maryland sportsman and owner of the race horse Chaldean, and Louis Rowan, Los Angeles polo player, were married last night.

Noted Author Dead
EVANSTON, Ill., March 23. (AP)—Theodore Wesley Koch, 69, Northwestern university librarian who was the author of more than twenty books on library work died today.

Punishing Urged For Children Who 'Sass' Parents

Definite Penalty Recommended To Cure Habit of 'Talking Back'

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

"We have received much help from your daily articles," a reader writes. "I have several years' preparation and experience in kindergarten work and try to apply the methods in raising my own two daughters; one is past four, the other almost two."

"With the older girl, who is nervous, full of energy, very observing, comprehends quickly, cooperative and very affectionate, we have successfully overcome a series of behavior problems such as tantrums, biting, hitting, the 'No!' habit and others."

However, at present we want to know how to break her of 'talking back'—I mean plain sassiness. She started last summer after hearing her only playmate do it with her mother. At first we ignored it, thinking she would stop if we didn't notice it. When it didn't stop we tried various punishments but none have been effective. She talks back only to her Daddy and me, and to her aunt who sometimes stays with her in the evenings (perhaps being her disciplinarians we have unintentionally commanded or nagged her too much). To everyone else she is very polite.

"We try to make our home one of love and harmony and she has never heard us talk rudely, or raise our voice in anger or argument to one another. We try to divide our affections and attentions, especially between the two children, and they have never shown any signs of jealousy. I enclose a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it."

The Doctor's Answer
I can see how hard you have tried to be a good mother, and I am sure you are a far better mother than you think you are. Already you have achieved much. Your kindergarten experience should be of great value to you.

Go on with the same poise you pursued in the kindergarten. Be sure never to talk back to this child. In your efforts to reason with her under great emotional strain you may find yourself practically quarrelling with her.

Carefully study the situations in which she is "sassy." As a result, you may be able to reduce the annoyances to her which arouse this. Once you are very clear about the matter and have disciplined yourself to keep calm and never argue with her, announce to her in gentle but decisive tones what the penalty will be for each offense. Perhaps this penalty should be to sit quietly in one place for exactly twenty minutes. Assign this punishment in a good kindergarten fashion, without anger or excitement. Always assign the same punishment immediately for the same sort of offense. Allow no doubts nor exceptions to occur.

A Good Plan
Work out a plan with your husband whereby you follow the same procedure. If one of you deals with her misconduct let the other then be silent.

See that the baby lets this older child things alone and respects her rights and possessions. Don't make older sister give up to younger, but praise her when she does. Be careful not to praise the younger for traits and achievements the older lacks. Never compare them unfavorably. Try to see that the relatives don't. In spite of what you say, jealousy is a big factor. It may be the biggest contribution to her behavior. Do show the older child more affection.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. Should soldiers in camp receive spending money from home? A. I cannot imagine a situation in which they should. They should be saving some money to send home instead.

Terra Alta Stock Yards
TERRA ALTA, Va., March 23.—Receipts of the last week were heavy and the market ruled strong on most grades with a good demand for fat stock.

Hogs, choice weights 7.80 to 8.10, light weights 5.90 to 7.70, heavy weights and packing sows 5.90 to 7.85, shoats 3.20 to 6.10 per head. Calves, good and choice 10.60 to 12.80, medium 7.55 to 9.80, common 5.80 to 6.15, stocker calves 19.50 to 55.00 per head.

Bulls, 7.30 to 8.10. Cows medium to fair 5.10 to 6.90, common and shelly 3.50 to 5.00, milk cows 40.50 to 53.50 per head. Steers good 8.85 to 9.60, common to medium 6.95 to 7.80, Heifers good 8.50 to 9.40, medium 7.20 to 7.65. Feeder cattle 25.50 to 56.00 per head.

Lambs 7.65 to 9.95.

Garrett County's
(Continued from Page 7)

children, four of whom are still living. He has nineteen grandchildren and twenty-seven great-grandchildren. His four children are: Mrs. Henry Wilhelm, Gary, Ind.; Mrs. D. R. Hinebaugh, George Marley, Jr., and Mrs. Robert Thrasher, all of Deer Park.

Mr. Marley was remarkably well preserved. His skin was pink and fresh looking and until his illness he ate normally. He even had some of his teeth and had never had any filled. He retained a sense of humor at all times.

Sportsmen's Club Shows Game Films

Movies of Bird Life Are Loaned by Biological Survey

HYNDMAN, Pa., Hunters, fishermen and other local sportsmen attended movies Friday night in the Junior Order hall. The films were upon the subject of bird-banding and bird-migrations, and depicted how the birds are caught, light bands with appropriate legends are fastened to their legs, and how later many of them were captured in various parts of South America to which countries they migrate for the winter months.

The films were loaned by the Biological Survey, Washington, D. C., and were shown locally free of charge. The Sportsmen's Club own their own projection machine.

Thirteen Draftees Called

On Friday, March 28th, thirteen young men chosen from Bedford county draftees, under the directions of the Selective Service Act, will be sent to Altoona for induction into Army service. Of the thirteen, one is from Hyndman, Howard Brent Dennison, order number thirty-three. Only one other man from this immediate community had previously been called, John Roymond Kiser, Hobitzel. Ernest Eugene Wilhelm near Buffalo Mills is also in the group to be inducted. Next county-wide call will be on April 9th.

Entertains Club

Mrs. William Burkett, Church street, entertained the Stanley Club Friday night at a brush demonstration. The following were present: Mesdames Shannon Burkett, Elsie Barkley, Charles Fisher, Robert Elliott, Chauncey Coughenour, Alonzo Pyles, Walter Logsdon, N. H. Burkett, James Owen, John Buffenmyer, Lewis Mangus, Bertha Lowery, Kenneth Burkett, Ross Harclerode, Casper Hyre, Russell Coughenour, Elsie Spangler and Miss Dorothy Burkett.

Celebrates Birthday

Christ C. Ranker, Fossilville, one of the oldest citizens of Bedford County celebrated his eighty-sixth birthday on Friday, March 22, passing the day quietly at home. In spite of his advanced year, he is hale and active and handles all his own business affairs.

Honored with Shower

Mrs. George Cook and Mrs. Harry Clark, were joint hostesses in entertaining in the former's home on Washington street, at a stork shower Friday night in honor of Mrs. Raymond Chinn, Washington, D. C. Those present were Mesdames George Himes, Charles O. Burns, Sr., David Rees, Noah Cook, and the Misses Edith Kinton, Edna Lee Clark, and Shirley Cook, and Sandra Cook and Dena Jo Rees.

Personals

Professor David Rees, Columbus, Ohio, is spending the spring vacation with his wife and daughter here.

Mrs. Charles Burton, Cumberland, was a guest on Thursday and Friday of her son-in-law and daughter, Prof. and Mrs. Jack Burns.

Miss Edith Kinton left Saturday for New York City to resume her duties as registered nurse, after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kinton, Locust street.

Miss Helen Bishop, Cumberland, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Gaus.

William Shroyer and son, Richard, were Friday business visitors in Cumberland.

Professor and Mrs. Roscoe Wareham were week-end visitors in Martinsburg, Pa., and Altoona.

Mrs. Charles Miller, West End, Pa., was a Friday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Harden, Bedford street.

Professor Jack Shearer, Warrior's Mark, Pa., spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Della Shearer.

Charles Sides, a student at Penn State College, visited relatives here.

Mrs. James Reckley and daughter, Faith, Oldtown road, Cumberland, were guests for several days of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Harden.

Ban Snake Handling At Religious Services

ATLANTA, March 23. (AP)—Georgia legislators have decreed a prison term of one to twenty years for persons convicted of handling poisonous snakes at religious services or other places, in a manner that imperils the safety of any individual.

Passage of the law was prompted by reports of serious injury to a number of persons attending services of a religious cult in South Georgia last fall.

250,000 at Coney
NEW YORK, March 23. (AP)—Add evidence of spring.

There was a police-estimated crowd of 250,000, many of them soldiers and sailors with their sweethearts, at Coney Island at 3 p. m. today. The official temperature was 52 degrees. No one was swimming.

Nearly 373 million rolls of wallpaper, valued at $25,000,000, are produced annually, the Census bureau reports. It would bend the earth at the equator thirty-five times.

The 1940 census reported 241,856 gasoline filling stations in the United States, compared with 197,568 in 1925.

Inter-Society

(Continued from Page 7)

Bertha, Marion and Irene, survive. The body is at the home of the infant's grandmother, Mrs. Hugh Meese, Dudley terrace.

Brief Mention

Mrs. Arthur Phillips, East Main street, has returned from Frederick where she attended the spring meeting of the Frederick County Federation Homemakers club, as director of District No. 1.

Wesley Duckworth, Douglas avenue, who were overcome by smoke at the fire Thursday in the General Textile Mills, Inc., plant, is able to be out.

John Jackson, student at Randolph Macon College, Lynchburg, Va., is home visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson, East Main street.

John Barry and daughter, Mrs. Kenny Logsdon have returned from Baltimore where they were the guests of Joseph A. Barry.

Steve Patuc, CCC Camp No. 70, is a surgical patient in the Memorial hospital, Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall, Washington, D. C., were visiting here during the week-end.

Robert M. Grove, Jr., is home from Cheshire Academy, Cheshire, Conn.

Good Will Fire company is making preparations to celebrate its fifty-ninth anniversary on April 15.

Third Hearing

(Continued from Page 7)

Hazel Virtis, and feature editor, Paul Fromhart.

Personals

Mrs. Emory L. Tyler, and daughter, Attorney Ruth Tyler and Miss Mary Evelyn Tyler, today left for Charleston, S. C., where they will visit Magnolia Garden. They were joined in Richmond by Miss Janet Tyler.

Miss Mary Shipper, librarian at Potomac State school, spent the week-end at her home in Martinsburg.

Mrs. M. P. Reichelt

(Continued from Page 7)

prepared by the society, is to be sent free to all members.

Resident of neighboring communities in other states and counties are also eligible for membership in addition to residents of this county. For the convenience of members in meeting, the county has been divided into districts. Members in the various sections will meet from time to time for the purpose of furthering the work of the society. Chairman of the membership committees in the various districts have been named as follows: Grantsville-Little Crossings, Frank J. Getty; Friendsville-Sandy Creek, Merle Prantz; Accident, B. O. Aiken; Sang Run, Ruth Hove; Great Glades-Oakland, Elizabeth West; Ryans Glade-Red House, the Rev. A. K. Jones; Potomac River-Kittling, Gladys D. Hamill.

Entertains with Dinner

Mrs. John H. Poik entertained at a dinner party Friday night at her home here. Her guests were Mrs. Ella B. Keller, Mrs. Fred Livewood, Mrs. Ira L. Huff, Mrs. Hayward F. Broadwater, Mrs. Charles S. Keller, Mrs. Harry J. Bender and daughter, Janie, Mrs. Norman R. Davis and Mrs. Thomas D. Maurer. At the conclusion of a delicious three-course dinner two tables of contract were arranged for the evening's entertainment. Mrs. Maurer won the honors for high score and Mrs. Zeller received the floating prize.

Honored on Birthday

Mrs. Virgil R. Gillum was surprised Friday night when a group of her neighbors called at her home to help her celebrate her birthday anniversary. The affair was arranged by Mrs. George D. Edwards, Mrs. Henry L. Durst, Mrs. Leonard B. Schaefer, Mrs. Earl Frickey, Mrs. Olen Yoder and Mrs. Alvin J. Yoder.

Blaine Hetrick Injured

Mrs. Elizabeth Hookman received a message telling of the injury of her grandson, Blaine Hetrick, in an automobile accident which occurred at Barborton, O., a few days ago. Hetrick, who is well known here, is employed at Barborton at present. He was driving with four companions when a large freight truck crashed into their machine.

One of the occupants was killed instantly, another is in a critical condition, and two are still confined to a hospital.

Personals

Mrs. Melissa Boucher departed Friday for Richmond, Va., where she will spend some time as the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Boucher.

Charles O. Keller visited his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Keller, during the weekend at their home at Wilmington, Del.

Mrs. Nellie Bender and Mrs. Emma Younkun, who have been the house guests of Clyde F. Bender and Mrs. Edna B. Keller for a few days, have returned to their home at Akron, O. Mrs. Nellie Bender's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Bender, motored here for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Markel Stanton, Westport, spent the weekend here as guests at the home of Mr. Stanton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Urban Stanton.

The First State Bank will be closed, March 25, in observance of Maryland day, a legal holiday. The business hours will remain open as usual, however.

Baltimore Woman To Address Joint Service Clubs

OAKLAND, Md., March 23.—Mrs. James Hooper Dorsey, prominent clubwoman of Baltimore, will make an address here at a specially called meeting of the Joint Service clubs of Oakland, it was announced by Rev. Felix G. Robinson, Mrs. Dorsey is secretary-treasurer of the Maryland Forest and Park Association, which is a volunteer organization comprised of citizens from every community in the State. She is said to be a brilliant speaker. Her address at the Mt. Choir Festival dinner in Baltimore in February was well received.

The purpose of Mrs. Dorsey's visit, according to Rev. Robinson, is in the nature of reporting the summer program of the Maryland Forest and Park Association, particularly as it affects Garrett county. The association is planning for its major project this summer a pilgrimage to this county the week-end of August 9 and 10.

Pilgrimage Is Planned

The pilgrimage plans to visit the recreational areas after which it will hold a program in the amphitheatre Saturday evening, August 9. The following day the pilgrimage will attend the Folk Festival, which is one of the programs of the newly restored Chautauque season being sponsored by the Mountain Choir Festival Association. The date and place of the meeting will be announced this week, Rev. Robinson said.

Many Clubs Invited

Service clubs invited to participate in the meeting are Rotary, Lions, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Oakland Civic club and the Business and Professional Women's club.

109 Rabbits Are Released in Grant

PETERSBURG, Va., March 23.—Harrison Shobe, district game protector announces that he released 109 cottontail rabbits for propagation in Grant county. The animals were shipped to Petersburg from Rago, Kansas and were purchased by the West Virginia Conservation Commission.

Members of the Grant County Rod and Gun Club assisted Shobe in the distribution of the rabbits in the county. This is the first shipment of cottontail rabbits released in the county.

Brief Items

"Security for Today and Tomorrow" and "Families without Fear" sound slide films released by the Social Security Board were shown through the cooperation of the Cumberland field office of the Federal Social Security Board last evening before the Kiwanis Club of Petersburg at their meeting here.

John W. Stewart, deputy state veterans service officer, Romney was here yesterday in the Western Auto Associate store, aiding war veterans, their widows and families. Judge Robert McV. Drane, Piedmont, will hold a special term of the Circuit Court here Monday and several decrees will be entered.

Personals

Clerk Paul A. Leatherman who has been ill at his home with flu is able to be back in his office.

Elwood Clower who is a ministerial student in the Theological seminary, Richmond, Virginia, is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Clower.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cook, Cumberland, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Cook, Dorcas.

Lewis Moomau student at Potomac State College, Keyser, is spending the week-end with his mother, Mrs. W. C. Moomau.

Eston Brill and Elton Hiser have returned from Washington where they attended a banquet and show given by the Ford Motor Company.

Mrs. D. C. Marshall, Romney, is here visiting her sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harman and daughter, Cumberland, were here yesterday visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Harman.

Mrs. Annie Veach, Wheeling, is here visiting Mayor and Mrs. M. F. Gray.

T. R. Craig, Clarksburg, was here yesterday on business.

Mrs. Mamie Shobe celebrated her seventy-second birthday at her home on North Main, Thursday with members of her family present.

The Cumberland News

Published every weekday morning, excepting Sundays, at 5 and 7 South Main Street, Cumberland, Maryland. No. 1000 and Allegany Company.

Entered as second class mail matter at Cumberland, Md.

Member of The Associated Press
The Associated Press is authorized to use the reproduction of its news articles in its own publications and in other newspapers and magazines. All rights of reproduction of special dispatches are reserved.

TERMS: By carrier in city, 15 cents per week. By mail—Post, prepaid, 10c and 10c per week. Single copies 5c. Foreign postage extra. One month $4.00, six months $20.00, one year $36.00.

National Advertising Representative: J. J. Decker and Associates, Inc., New York, 1000 Broadway, New York, N. Y. 10010. Advertisers: 1000 Broadway, New York, N. Y. 10010. Advertisers: 1000 Broadway, New York, N. Y. 10010.

Telephone: 1000 Broadway, New York, N. Y. 10010.

Monday Morning, March 24, 1941

A Costly Project Not Needed for Defense

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has again disregarded his constitutional obligations and the condition of the federal treasury in concluding the agreement with Canada for the expensive and dubious St. Lawrence seaway project. It is regrettable that he has thus taken the bit in his own teeth just as public and congressional thought had approached the point of according the administration the united support demanded by the defense and British aid efforts. His action is sure to stir up wide and wholly unnecessary dissension.

The president has moved, in obstinate manner, to prevent senatorial veto over treaties as designed in the constitution. Because it is regarded as an agreement, instead of a treaty, the plan now requires only a majority vote approval of both houses of the Congress. If it had been presented as a treaty, its validation would have required a two-thirds vote of the Senate, and that body, having refused to sanction the proposal before, would in all probability have refused to accord it the necessary two-thirds majority again.

The costly project is now designated as a necessary defense measure, a characterization extremely difficult to substantiate. But nothing is advanced of a convincing nature, nor has anything of the kind been brought out in the long discussion of the subject, to show that it ties in with defense needs.

The two arguments advanced in behalf of a defense need are that it would provide needed electric power and that it would make possible the operation of shipyards in the Great Lakes for sea-going vessels.

As for power needs, which the president says is required now by the demands of the "rapidly expanding airplane industry, the gigantic project could not begin to furnish any for several years hence, by which time the war emergency in all probability will be over; and if the added power is necessary in the meantime, the demonstrated manner in which to obtain it quickly and cheaply is to build steam plants, which can be provided within a fraction of the time required to install hydro-electric plants.

As for the shipyards argument, little or nothing has been submitted to support it than the mere statement by the president that it would be a good thing. No shortage of shipbuilding facilities has been established either now or prospectively. Even if such a shortage should be threatened, existing plants could be enlarged, or many seaboard sites are available for new ones. The argument that inland shipyards would be more sheltered seems answered in the contention that if an enemy ever should get sufficient control of our eastern seaboard to cripple our shipyards, a canal from the Great Lakes would be of comparatively little worth.

As for the cost of the project, opponents declare that the estimate of $266,000,000 for the International Rapids section would rise, by the estimates of its advocates, to $550,000,000 by the time the channels are completed from Lake Superior to the Thousand Islands, and probably several times that total if undertaken in wartime. Such a vast investment for dreams of a future social usefulness appear quite out of line in view of the fact that the people are already staggering under a burden that may soon prove unbearable, and in view of the need, already postulated by the president, that our greatest task is to "move products of our factories to the battle lines of democracy—now." Even Mr. Mackenzie King's note implies a strong doubt on the part of Canada as to the advisability of the undertaking in the face of the need for both to be busy on defense production.

Certainly the project should receive the most careful scrutiny in the Congress before even the majority vote of approval is accorded it.

A Senator Who Is a Bit Conservative

SENATOR PAT HARRISON, chairman of the Senate Finance committee, permits it to be known that under the defense and Lease-Lend programs there will be need for new taxes to the extent of from a billion to a billion and a half.

Mr. Harrison, it would appear, is highly conservative in his estimates. Perhaps his conservatism is reason for his confidence that the nation will take it without protest. "The people seem to realize," he says, "that it takes money to do this defense job well and I have heard no squawks about taxes yet."

March 15 has passed, and the nation has made the first war-tax hurdle with no strain. Some persons, it appears, have even contributed to defense when they did not have to do so. That is a fine spirit. It indicates unity of purpose.

But it does not indicate that there may not come a time when squawks will be heard. A continued willingness to pay is not to be separated for an indefinite period from considerations of capacity to pay.

Old Swindle Comes To Life Again

AN OLD SPANISH CUSTOM is being revived south of the border down Mexico way. Maybe you've guessed it already for it's that old chestnut, the hoax called the Spanish swindle.

The idea is fantastic, yet it is surprising how many people, lured by the hope of getting rich quick, fall for one or another of its many versions. Operators in Mexico, South America and sometimes even in Spain send their prospective victims a letter in which they represent themselves as imprisoned for bankruptcy or for political reasons. It is further related that if the recipient will bring a large sum of money to effect the prisoner's release, he will be rewarded handsomely out of the proceeds of certain fabulously valuable "papers" hidden in the United States, usually in the false bottom of a trunk in a customs house.

These letters, if you haven't read one before, sound plausible enough in these hectic times and many a fall guy has answered the call of the oppressed. When he lands in Mexico or some other country outside the United States the operators find some way to relieve him of his cash, either by trickery or violence.

In any event, it is dangerous as well as costly to play with such fire. The United States authorities think that the reappearance of the old gag is important enough to urge anyone receiving such a letter to notify his local postmaster immediately.

Bert Carpenter Has It All Figured Out

WE are hearing much nowadays about the staggering national debt that is being piled up and about possible ways and means of ever paying for it.

It is a subject that stupefies most persons by reason of the enormity of the debt and the tremendous task of meeting it.

But, one fellow has found out who will do the paying, if he and the rest of us may be permitted to inject a bit of jocularity into such a depressing subject.

He is Bert Carpenter, the Republican national committeeman for Nebraska. He says the twenty-two million people who voted for Wilkie will have to pay for the war part of the bill, as the twenty-seven million who voted for Mr. Roosevelt are all either working for the government or on WPA.

Not much cheer for the Wilkie supporters there; but the reminder, though made in lighter vein, can serve as a needed prod for everybody to work for economy everywhere on non-defense expenditures.

One of the Oldest Sports in the World

WILL a spring ever come when boys will not play marbles? Probably not. Governments and constitutions and economic systems may change and even undergo revolution, but probably 5,000 years from now boys will be playing marbles just as they do now.

The various games played with marbles constitute one of the oldest sports in the world. The game is practically universal today, played in all lands. Something about the little rolling spheres fascinates the young mind everywhere. Very few boys pass through the younger age without a period when they contend at this game.

During recent years efforts have been made by various organizations for youth to systematize this sport. Contests in marble playing have been held, with great numbers of boys contending for marble championships. The game is used to teach boys lessons of fair play.

Those big league ball players who are holding out for five-figure salaries may have gotten the idea by reading the dispatches from Washington.

The Browser's Bookshelf

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Gontar de Poncins is—or war—a son of old France. By family and by education and by all the refinements of European life he is a child of an ancient and individualized civilization. But one day in the spring of 1938 the word "Eskimo" began to ring inside of him and swell like the vibrations of a great bell until it filled his subconscious being. Before it was finished with him it had drawn him across the Atlantic Ocean to King William Land, north of Hudson Bay—and there he lived through one long winter with those strange and unattractive people the Eskimos.

So, inevitably he wrote a diary and a book about his experience of BEING an Eskimo. The book is called "Kablonka" (Reynal and Hitchcock) and it is unique. Many other men have lived with and written about the Eskimos. None have come as imaginatively and understandingly close as this refined Gontar de Poncins . . . because de Poncins shares with Villiers, who lived in Arab ghats for a year and wrote "Sons of Sinbad," the rare gift of becoming at times the being he describes.

The Eskimo, you understand, is not a "nice person." He is suspicious, cunning, sly, greedy; he exploits the white man who would exploit him; his sexual mores are frankly different from ours; he steals and murders without conscience; but he gets along, he survives . . . And at last within Gontar de Poncins grew a respect for these strange people. And he achieved a brotherhood that was the commonplace of their lives. That year was the only time in his life when he was describable (as he puts it) "not as a Frenchman, not as an individual product of heritage, place, environment, but as nothing other than, simply, a man."

Several years ago the Browser knew for a short time, a slim old gentleman who had passed his ninetieth year but had not forgotten the days of his glory. Sixty-two years ago Dr. Valentine McGillycuddy was the Indian agent of Pine Ridge between Nebraska and Dakota. More than 1500 miles from Washington, 150 miles from a railroad, herded 8,000 Indians in a territory 4,000 miles square—and was the most hated man in the West.

Incorruptible and unafraid, Dr. McGillycuddy's task was to feed and tame the bold and defiant Sioux and at the same time fight off the greedy and tireless members of the "Indian Ring" whose sole ambition was to cheat the Indian and the White Father and steal the rich lands set aside for the redmen.

A remarkable man was Dr. Valentine McGillycuddy and the book his widow, Mrs. Julia McGillycuddy, has written is an accurate measure of his achievements and personality. She calls it "McGillycuddy, Agent" (Stanford University Press). He fiercely insisted that she "stick to facts." She did.

The Browser has just enjoyed the Modern Library's "Five Great Modern Irish Plays." Synge's "Playboy of the Western World" and "Riders to the Sea"; Sean O'Casey's "Juno and the Paycock"; Lady Gregory's "Spreading the News" and Paul V. Carroll's "Shadow and Substance."

Of Irish drama George Jean Nathan writes that "in the finer (Irish) plays there is a poetic sweep, a surgery of human emotions and a warm golden glow that even the best drama of other countries most often lacks."

Read these plays and you will agree with Mr. Nathan about the warmth and human richness—and humor—of the Irish drama . . . Enough from Marshall Maslin.

THE BROWSER

Seaway Project Demands Debate, Gen. Johnson Says

By GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON

WASHINGTON, March 22—A principal characteristic of our president in respect of which his pride is amply justified by the record is what an observer might call persistence but what he calls his "Dutch stubbornness." Whatever you call it, it certainly is there. If you look back over the story of what he set out to do and in which he was temporarily frustrated, you will find that the purpose remained and that, through one or another avenue—sometimes after years—the end was achieved.

Hugh S. Johnson

He wanted to remake the supreme court. Congress stopped him but death and advancing age gave him more than he had ever sought. He has already appointed more justices than anybody since Washington, and there is a possibility that before the tale is told he will have appointed them all.

Attained by Laws

NRA was as dear to his heart as any policy. The supreme court stopped him but in the National Labor Relations law, the Wages and Hours act, the Bituminous Coal law, and the Walsh-Healy act, he attained piece-meal at least half his principal purpose in NRA. If we go to a really all-out mobilization of industry, as seems very likely, he will get all the rest of his vision in industrial organization and control.

Perhaps the most uncanny of his "bobbing up serenely" to get what he wants in the end is the so-called St. Lawrence seaway. It was advanced first as a navigation project to "bring the great ocean-going vessels of the commerce of the world to the docks of Cleveland, Duluth, Chicago and all lake ports." It almost certainly would do no such thing. Practically all impartial engineering studies have indicated this conclusion and there have been many of them over many years. The waterway is closed by ice forty percent of the time. The low speeds required in "tight" waters and in looking would so greatly slow the speed of vessels that the journeys would not be economical. Finally the proposed depths available would accommodate none but a few ocean tramps and coastwise vessels.

Navigation Emphasized

But the "navigation" ballyhoo was necessary for two reasons. If it could be sold to the Middle West it was good for political support. More important still, as the supreme court decisions then stood, the federal government could not develop a waterway for power alone. Its powers were confined to navigation but, in developing for navigation, power was produced as an incident, that was permissible.

So the emphasis was all on navigation—notwithstanding that, of the billion-dollar estimated cost (probably twice that now) only one-third of that amount would be necessary purely for power. Navigation improvements of highly dubious value would cost $614,000,000 of the lower estimate, or perhaps double that.

Finally boundary waters between the United States and Canada had always been subjects of treaties—King William Land, north of Hudson Bay—and there he lived through one long winter with those strange and unattractive people the Eskimos.

New Elements Enter

Now new elements have entered. First it is clear that under the supreme court, as now constituted, the federal government can develop a stream for power—especially if an element of "national defense" can be imagined and now under war pressures we are inclined to do anything suggested for national defense and do it without any debate or back talk. So, Mr. Roosevelt returns with an "agreement" for his "seaway" rather than a treaty—which by some alchemy is not supposed to require Senate ratification. The lopsided

ON GPU DEATH LIST!

Representative Dies

Because of repeated threats of death and kidnapping which he has received from persons he believes are Soviet Russian agents, Representative Martin Dies (D.) of Texas, above, concludes he is high on the Russian GPU (secret police) list for "eradication." Dies is chairman of the House committee investigating un-American activities.

EVENTUALLY, WHY NOT NOW?

Sullivan Reports Feeling among Many That Mediation Board Is Inadequate

BY MARK SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, March 23—The effectiveness of the new Labor Mediation board appointed by President Roosevelt cannot be fairly judged until after it has had a chance to function. The board includes men of fine reputation and high ability. It is accurate to say, however, that this move by the president is not universally considered to go to the heart of the need.

The new board will not have power to function about any strike until after two conditions have been fulfilled. First, the existing Conciliation Service in the department of Labor must have attempted conciliation and must have failed. Second, Secretary of Labor Perkins must certify that the strike "threatens to . . . obstruct the production of materials essential to national defense." Only after this step by Secretary Perkins can the new board take notice of any strike. It is tenable to say that persons familiar with Secretary Perkins' attitude think she would be unlikely to turn a case over to the new board unless the circumstances were extreme indeed. And after the new board gets jurisdiction, and after it investigates and comes to a decision, its only power is to make a report. The presumption is that a report made by the board of this character would have so much weight with public opinion as to cause surrender by either party to a strike that this board finds at fault.

For the Want Of a Nail

From the Pittsburgh Press.

Eighty American-built bombers are grounded in Canada because each lacks one small but vital part—a part that is supposed to be produced at a plant in Staten Island, N. Y. A strike, which began March 3 and lasted 15 days, stopped its production.

A strike ties up a small die-casting plant in Los Angeles. Four great airplane factories on the Pacific Coast depend on this plant for castings. Production of military planes will be slackened.

A plant in Bridgeville was turning out propellers for bombers. A strike was called. For lack of propellers, new bombers will be earthbound. This plant also made a small part for bomb fuses; a Chicago factory has had to stop assembling fuses. The plant also made a small part of the turbo-supercharged which enables bombers to reach great heights; for lack of this part, manufacture of the super-chargers has halted.

The big new powder plant at Radford, Va., can't get into full production until certain electric generators arrive—and the generators lie unfinished at the struck Allis-Chalmers plant in Milwaukee. Completion of another power plant at Charleston, Ind., is held up for the same reason.

A stoppage of work at some isolated plant you've never heard of, directly involving only a few men, may seem trivial. But it can throw important defense assembly lines out of gear.

In some instances perhaps management is at fault, in others perhaps labor, in most perhaps both. But wherever the blame belongs, the result is the same: England doesn't get the material aid we promised her, and our own defense is delayed.

It doesn't matter much whether Congress appropriates seven billions or seventy billions or seventy cents—if we cannot get uninterrupted production of all the parts of all the munitions needed by our own armed services and by those abroad who are doing the fighting.

"For the want of a nail the shoe was lost.
For the want of a shoe the horse was lost.
For the want of a horse the battle was lost.
For the want of the battle the kingdom was lost—
And all for the want of a horse-shoe nail."

ed to get their reactions toward the White House changed."

Act Too Drastic

Not only was the Labor act too drastic to be practicable. Of the three original members of the Labor board appointed by Mr. Roosevelt, two were so extreme that when their terms ended, Mr. Roosevelt did not reappoint them because, as everybody assumed, he knew the reappointments would not be confirmed by the Senate.

After the Labor act had been in existence some three years, there was a strong feeling that the act needed amendment. The feeling was shared by the American Federation of Labor, which asserted among other charges, that the Labor board was biased in favor of C.I.O. Processes designed to amend the act began in the Congress that met in January 1939. Proposed amendments were sent to the Labor committees of both the Senate and House. Both committees began hearings, which were characterized by postponements. In the House, the feeling that its Labor committee was not sufficiently expeditious reached a point at which the House took an unusual step.

Stopped in Senate

The House took the matter out of the hands of its labor committee and put it in the hands of a special committee to investigate the Labor board. This committee held hearings for several months and recommended amendments to the act. The amendments were passed by the House June 7, 1940, by a vote of 2 to 1—258 to 129. This action of the House came at a time when practically all the members were, or recently had been, candidates in the primaries for renomination, and were about to begin their campaigns for reelection in November. The action of the House was proof that a 2 to 1 majority of the members felt that the Labor act ought to be amended, and felt that the public supported them in this view.

The amendments were prevented from enactment by the fact that in the Senate the committee on Labor never reported them out. When the recent Congress came to an end last January without enactment of the amendments, there was a strong disposition of the new Congress to begin the process of amendment anew. But as the war came nearer to America, it was urged that a domestic matter so controversial as the Labor act ought not to be brought up. This argument for inaction has so far prevailed. Meanwhile arose the many strikes which have caused the present condition.

The amendments were prevented from enactment by the fact that in the Senate the committee on Labor never reported them out. When the recent Congress came to an end last January without enactment of the amendments, there was a strong disposition of the new Congress to begin the process of amendment anew. But as the war came nearer to America, it was urged that a domestic matter so controversial as the Labor act ought not to be brought up. This argument for inaction has so far prevailed. Meanwhile arose the many strikes which have caused the present condition.

The amendments were prevented from enactment by the fact that in the Senate the committee on Labor never reported them out. When the recent Congress came to an end last January without enactment of the amendments, there was a strong disposition of the new Congress to begin the process of amendment anew. But as the war came nearer to America, it was urged that a domestic matter so controversial as the Labor act ought not to be brought up. This argument for inaction has so far prevailed. Meanwhile arose the many strikes which have caused the present condition.

The amendments were prevented from enactment by the fact that in the Senate the committee on Labor never reported them out. When the recent Congress came to an end last January without enactment of the amendments, there was a strong disposition of the new Congress to begin the process of amendment anew. But as the war came nearer to America, it was urged that a domestic matter so controversial as the Labor act ought not to be brought up. This argument for inaction has so far prevailed. Meanwhile arose the many strikes which have caused the present condition.

Two Stories About Apples

From the Altoona, Pa., Tribune

If they hadn't come from two different sections of the country, two stories about apples which appeared over the weekend would seem to come from apple growers themselves.

Down in Philadelphia the apple he eats every day is credited by a guest at the Home for Aged Couples for the fact that his ninety-second birthday found him in perfect health.

Out in Tacoma, Washington, an Indiana woman has reduced from 166 pounds to 136 in forty-five days by eating only apples—twenty a day—with apple juice for a chaser. Physicians are watching her diet with much interest.

The aged Philadelphia man would

Return of Hyde Recalls Notable New York Party

By EDWIN C. HILL

Wraiths of the Gibson girl drift back to our shores with the return of Mr. James Hazen Hyde from Paris, after thirty-five years of self-imposed exile. In the long view, nothing Mr. Hyde's diligent service of American interests during the World War, we let bygones be bygones and think only of the aftermath of an epoch and write off the insurance investigation which, while not smirching Hyde, caused him to seek a peaceful retreat in Paris.

One could re-build that Gibson girl era around the elegant person of James Hazen Hyde. In Harvard university, he was so shy that he was tagged with a nickname which later would have been translated as "hick." Moving into his father's life insurance society, he contributed undreamed of embellishments to life insurance business—a Van Dyke beard, a fresh boutonniere every hour, French chateaux, a gilt salon, regal coaching equipage, horses, and a wardrobe which shone all possible competitors.

A Famous Whip

He chartered the Green Point ferry to take an Oriental potentate to his Bay Shore mansion in Long Island. He was the most famous whip of his day, gathering resounding fame by driving the "Liberty" coach from New York to Lakewood. From early boyhood he had been obsessed with the French culture tradition. For his French Renaissance ball at Sherry's, there was an expense account of $100,000.

There are aging dames, dowagers and coition leaders who still remember that ball wistfully, as possibly our highest reach of elegance in those days when we first realize that we didn't have to take anyone's dust when it came to throwing party. I quote from an account of the ball from Albert Steyer, Crockett's book of later years, called "Peacocks on Parade."

"The ball room at Sherry's had been transformed to represent a portion of the Palace of Versailles, with frescoes, mirrors and per furniture, copied to the last detail the account reads. 'It was said that many of the necessary details had been made in Paris and imported. Hyde received his guests in white satin breeches and long, slithering and the rest of a costume adapted to convert him into a portrait, Louis XVI. His sister, Mrs. Sydney Ripley, received with him, garb as Marie Antoinette. The guests were costumed in harmony.'

Equalled French Splendor

"Altogether, the picture was one that would have graced the Palace of Versailles itself, at a period when splendor in France was measured in royal or imperial terms.

"The piece de resistance of the occasion was the appearance of Mme. Rejane, the great French actress, who was, in effect, a guest of honor as well as the chief performer. Her arrival provided a real sensation, for she was borne into the ballroom seated in a sedan chair, the bearers being four husky men in the uniform of the Swiss Guards.

"Guests were seated during the act, which consisted mainly of recitation. There was nothing in the slightest degree immoral or suggestive, at least to ears accustomed only to English. The act of Mme. Rejane was handed into a sedan and carried out of the room as she had come in.

Prompted Investigation

"But it was the lavishness of affair that made the talk. Even the least important arrangements of entertainment were designed to dazzle a thrill-sated throng. The favors were exquisite, the food perfect, the wine of rarest vintage. That that particular ball at Sherry's had considerable bearing on the great insurance investigation the same year which served to attract public attention upon a rising young lawyer, Charles Evans Hughes, later to be governor of New York, then, in turn, a justice of the United States supreme court, a presidential candidate, secretary of state and now chief justice of United States."

Back around the turn of the century, Europe was to many of our social and financial careerists, only the fount of culture but a secure dominion of the graces of civilized living, of the art of living in fact. Furthermore, it was a b of stability and security, of unchanging institutions and governments, as contrasted to our restless and experimental democracy.

In just a few on-rushing years were to know how frail and crumbling, how weighted with an insupportable past were the timb which held it.

Morning Motto

A good disposition I far prefer gold for gold is the gift of fortune; goodness of disposition is the gift nature. I prefer much rather to called good than fortunate.

seem to have the better approach toward a popular fruit—he's tempted with one on a day. But that red by eating only apples will soon like a lot of apple sauce to the lassies contemplating dieting.

Copyright, 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Social Events and Items of Interest for the Women

Mary G. Walsh To Speak Wednesday At Temple Sisterhood Luncheon

The Sisterhood of Ber Chayim Congregation will hold their regular meeting with a luncheon at 1 o'clock Wednesday in the vestry room of the Temple.

The following comprise the committee on arrangements: Mrs. Herman Richmond, Mrs. Michael Beer, Mrs. Herman Bernstein, Mrs. Myer Korn, Mrs. Leo Schor, Mrs. Louis Waligold and Mrs. Sidney Zwick. Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, will speak on "The Role of the Public Library in American Community Life."

Dinner Is Scheduled

Louis Spector, Baltimore attorney and leading Zionist, will be the principal speaker at the annual dinner of the Cumberland Chapter of Hadassah which will be held at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening April 3 at the All Olan Shrine Country Club, Baltimore pike.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Matteson, Frostburg State Teachers college will give a musical program.

Bible Class Meets

Miss Jessie Plake, Baltimore avenue, was hostess Friday evening to the Faithful Workers Sunday School Class of Kingsley Methodist church.

Miss Mary Thomas was assisting hostess.

Others present were Mrs. Thelma Wight, teacher, Mrs. Emma Smith, Mrs. Gladys Bille, Mrs. Doris Twigg, Mrs. Teresa Hiser, Mrs. Winifred White, Mrs. Romaine Steinger, Mrs. Ethel Mathews, Mrs. Freda Nisse, Mrs. Velma McCoy and Miss Nellie Huff.

Hostess Is Named

Mrs. Ethel Earson will be the next hostess to the Frances E. Willard Bible Class of Kingsley Methodist church at her home Baltimore pike.

The class met recently at the home of Mrs. Ames Johnson, 400 Central avenue, with Mrs. Pearl Brechbell as co-hostess.

Others present were Mrs. Genevieve Wotring, Mrs. Ruth Shade, Mrs. Elizabeth Hardesty, Mrs. Ruth Britt, Mrs. Ada Minnick, Mrs. Ethel Miller, Mrs. Ruth Smith, Mrs. Ethel Eason, Mrs. Eva Curry, Mrs. Marjorie Keeler, Mrs. Martha Smith, Mrs. Mildred Nestor, Mrs. Ruth Par-dew, Mrs. Eleanor Murphy and Mrs. Norma Jean Johnson. Prizes were won by Mrs. Shade and Mrs. Wotring.

Plan Benefit Party

Mrs. Floyd Hout and Miss Mary

Joyce will sponsor the card party Friday evening for the benefit of St. Mary's Catholic church, Old-town road. Mrs. John Brinker and Mrs. Edward Weber sponsored last Friday's card party.

Prizes were won by the following in set back: Mrs. A. P. Connel, Mr. E. R. Coakley, Mrs. Goldie Dorrill, James Clark, Augustine L. Will and J. A. Spicer; in five hundred Mrs. Lucy Kauffman, Mrs. Fred Brinker, Mrs. Helena Martin, Robert Shaffer, David Murray and I. H. Bane.

Mission League Meets

Mrs. Margaret Weber was hostess to the Ann Judson Mission League Friday evening at her home, 603 Leiper street, with Miss Martha Gatehouse in charge of the program.

Attending were Mrs. Sylvia Henze, Mrs. Sara Wilson, Mrs. Josephine Shonksi, Mrs. Emma Darr, Mrs. Virginia Godwin, Miss Elizabeth McCullough, Mrs. Ruth Collins, Mrs. Margaret Ritter, Miss Martha Gatehouse, Mrs. Goldie Little, Mrs. Dolly Matthews, Mrs. Erma Nicodemus, Mrs. Wilma Alderton, Mrs. Lean Humphreys, Mrs. Lorraine Miller, Mrs. Margaret Weber and visitor, Miss Josephine Stafford.

Members Honored

Members who have belonged to McKinley Chapter No. 12 of the Order of the Eastern Star for twenty-five years or more were honored at a Silver anniversary by the chapter Friday evening at the Masonic Temple, Greene street.

Gifts were given to the guests and a program was presented with Nancy Williams who gave a reading. Miss Mamie Orndoff presided in the East, with Mrs. Betty Williams, Mrs. Mabel Miller and Mrs. Emma Miller in charge of arrangements. Refreshments were served in the assembly hall to about one hundred and fifty members and visitors.

Party Is Held

A party honoring Derward Groud-er's nineteenth birthday was given Friday evening at his home, 109 East First street.

Guests were Leona Growden, George Hickle, Roberta Gressman, Albert Welshans, Vera Whitman, Warren Brechin, Anna Burns, Raymond Randall, Alma Twigg, Floyd Johnson, Rena Triplett, Edward Twigg, Carl Growden and Dorothy Triplett, Barbara Garlitz and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eichner.

Honored on Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Knotts, 247 Massachusetts avenue, entertained Thursday evening at their home in honor of the thirteenth birthday of their daughter, Evelyn. The color scheme was pink and white.

Guests were Mrs. Wilbur Cagle, Mrs. Charles Sommercamp, Mrs. Martha Witt, Howard Knotts, Lucille Cagle, Charlotte Martz, Rosalee Thompson, Gladys Thompson, Gertrude Weaver, Alma Jane Hare, Beatrice Thompson, Mary Jane Kreighline, Mary Ann Sommercamp, Shirley Knotts, June Andrews, Alma Taylor, Deborah Bugg, Jean Golden, Bertie Lou Ellis, Velma Steward, Grace Tobey, Margie Judd, Elaine Lapp, Marie Hudson, Virginia Cesna, Rosalee Kimmel, Dorothy Redhead, Jo Ann Walsh, Carol Jackson, Gordon Andrews, Buddy Cagle, Ronald Tingler and Evelyn Sisk.

Events in Brief

Circle No. 2 of the First Presbyterian church, Washington street, will meet at 6 o'clock this evening at the lecture hall of the church. A covered dish supper will be held at this time. Mrs. William B. Ludman will review the book "Uprooted Americans." Mrs. Edward N. Glynn is circle leader.

The Boys 4-H Federation will hold a skating party at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at Crystal Park.

The Allegany Girls 4-H Trail will hold a rally banquet at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening at Centre Street Methodist church.

The Galilee Workers Sunday School Class of the First Methodist church, Bedford street, will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. V. R. Ice, 715 Patterson avenue.

Ray Ice, 715 Patterson avenue, will be host to the Boys Sunday School Class of the First Methodist church, Bedford street, at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening at his home.

The Past Councilors' Circle of Our Flag No. 100 of the Daughters of America will meet at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Martha Athey, 532 Bedford street. Mrs. Alice Trout will be co-hostess.

Old Potomac Lodge No. 283 of the Ladies auxiliary to the International Association of Machinists and Helpers will hold a card party at 8:30 o'clock this evening at the old home on Arch street.

The Catherine Labouré Mission club will resume its work of assisting Sisters of Charity in mission work at Kitzmiller Sunday. The club will meet the following day, March 31 at Allegany hospital.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church, Bedford street, will hold its quarterly meeting tomorrow evening at the church. Following the meeting Circle No. 5 will hold its monthly business meeting.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weibel, Greensburg, Pa., spent the week-end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Fink, 221 Polk street.

Mrs. Thomas J. Campbell, Bristol, Va., who has been the guest of her nephew, Irbey S. Rutherford, 80 Greene street, has gone to Dayton, O., for a visit with her son, W. R. Campbell and family before returning to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory F. Showman, 328 Reservoir avenue, have returned from visiting in Fort Wayne and Kendallville, Ind.

Mrs. Peter H. Kreigh, 74 Greene street, is visiting in Clearspring and Hagerstown.

Mrs. A. W. Carroll and daughter, Hazel, 304 Arch street, and Leo Walker of Mexico Farms, spent the week-end in Washington, D. C.

Miss Elizabeth Carroll, Mrs. Elva Poling and Miss Isabelle Scott, registered nurses from Sibley hospital, Washington, D. C., and residents of this city are in Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Thomas W. Koon, Baltimore avenue, has returned to her home from Annapolis, where she attended the Governor's reception and the legislative ball.

Mrs. W. G. Rayburn, 707 Louisiana avenue, is spending several weeks in Florida.

Mrs. Ella Lou Cunningham, Hagerstown, has returned after visiting her mother, Mrs. T. B. Allen, 525 Eastern avenue, who has been ill.

Misses Kathryn and Elsa Keolin, accompanied by Douglas Shone, participated in their father's birthday celebration Saturday evening, coming from Philadelphia for that purpose.

Miss Eugene Alther, 101 Park street, is a patient at Memorial hospital.

F. Graham Ort, Bel Air, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Ort, Fayette street, over the week-end.

Private Lee Berkley Mathews, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Mathews, LaVale, has graduated from the photographic department of the Air Corps Technical school at Lowry Field, Col.

Private David Hahn, son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Hahn, Frankfort road, a volunteer under the draft quota which left here March 11 has been transferred from Fort George G. Meade to the First Armored Division, Fort Knox, Ky.

Miss Sally Coulehan, Baltimore, spent the week-end as the guest of her mother, Mrs. William T. Coulehan, Cumberland street.

Dr. and Mrs. James E. McLean has been called to Williamson, W. Va., where the latter's father, R. L. Livingston, is critically ill.

Miss Mary L. Mattingly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeSales Mattingly, 12 Fourth street, is recovering from an operation for appendicitis at Allegany hospital.

Mrs. Catherine Fazenbaker Barton, is improving following a recent operation at Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Frank West, of Buffalo, N. Y., Miss Lou Donnelly and John J. Donnelly, of Connellsville, Pa., spent the week-end as guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Patterson, 330 Cumberland street.

Catherine the Great of Russia liked her coffee strong. She drank five cups of coffee for breakfast, and it is said that the palace chef used one pound of coffee for the five cups.

Canadian refineries manufactured 1,137,792,237 pounds of sugar in 1940.

Laura Wheeler Helps Beginners Do Lovely Crochet Inexpensively

COPY, 1940, NEEDLECRAFT SERVICE, INC.

Beginners—here's crochet that will win you laurels. The easy medallion, repeated, makes a variety of accessories, large or small, as you wish. Use string; it works up quickly. Pattern 2675 contains directions for medallion; photograph of medallion; illustrations of it and stitches; materials required.

Send ten cents in coin for this pattern to the Cumberland News, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Write plainly pattern number, your name and address.

Cause and Treatment of Peptic Ulcer Are Discussed by Noted Physician

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D., Peptic ulcer is commonly called the "stomach ulcer." In cal-the first place it is not "ulcers" as it always occurs as a single ulcer. In the second place it is usually not in the stomach but in the first part of the intestine beyond the opening from the stomach, the duodenum. These duodenal ulcers are twenty times as common as ulcer on the stomach side of the pylorus. The symptoms, however, are very similar and most people who say they have a "stomach ulcer" actually have a duodenal ulcer. It is better, therefore, to lump them both together and call it "peptic ulcer."

Dr. Clending will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

As I pointed out Saturday, the symptoms of peptic ulcer are likely to be recurrent, and while most of these ulcers eventually heal, the patient is likely to be troubled about this time of year and in the beginning of fall weather with the symptoms of dyspepsia. Physical and mental stresses at the change of seasons cause the recurrences and usually it makes no difference and the mental stresses, by increasing the secretion of gastric juice,

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

Hydrochloric Acid

In peptic ulcer the hydrochloric acid which is normally present in the gastric juice is greatly increased, and it is probable that this keeps the ulcer from healing.

This increase in hydrochloric acid is the real key to our modern conception of the treatment of peptic ulcer—to keep the gastric juice neutralized either by diet or the use of neutralizing (alkaline) salts.

In the strict treatment, which is often called the "Sippy treatment," the patient goes to bed and is completely neutralized by frequent doses of alkalies for a period of several weeks.

If all peptic ulcer patients would submit to this treatment it is probable that recurrences could be cut down about fifty to seventy-five per cent, but most of them are unwilling to take time off and to submit to the strict discipline which this requires.

It is certainly true that although the symptoms tend to recur, these patients can be made perfectly comfortable in quite a short time of seasons cause the recurrences and usually it makes no difference and the mental stresses, by increasing the secretion of gastric juice,

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

are just as important as the physical. In cal-

curried; relief follows just the same.

Diet Suggestions

The diet should consist, in these cases, of substances which will not be irritating and which will neutralize the largest amount of gastric juice. Such substances are proteins and fats, such as milk, milk and cream, tender lean meat as the breast of chicken, eggs, beef, fish, etc. Starches and sweets, and many times, fruits, are likely to cause irritation. All bread eaten should be toasted or consist of crusts.

Most of these people find out for themselves that if they take soda or milk of magnesia, it will give them relief. These are the basis of the powders used in the Sippy treatment.

Of late, a new substance has been introduced which, according to the reports the patients make, seems to work better than the old-time alkaline powders. This is aluminum hydroxide. It can be carried about in the pocket in the form of a sort of creamy liquid and is undoubtedly very potent in neutralizing the excess acidity of the stomach. The principle of treatment with aluminum hydroxide, however, is no different from that of the old Sippy treatment with alkaline powders.

Questions and Answers

A. T.—What is the cause and a good remedy for bad breath if your teeth are in good condition?

Answer—Tonsils with infected crypts, sinus disease of the nose. Gargling and nasal douching are the remedies.

F. P. H.—You have written that barbital tablets were harmful to middle-aged people. I am 48 years of age and find my nervousness helped by a five-grain tablet at night. How is it harmful?

Answer—I did not mean to say that barbital tablets are always harmful. Sometimes they cause mental confusion in middle-aged people. If they work well, a give relief, as in your case, without any unpleasant by-effects, all means continue to use them.

P. L. G.—Will it harm a person to combine milk and fish the same meal?

Answer—No—most especially, no. Fish cooked in milk is good for the body, mind and the soul.

PERSONAL

John—your wife has learned the truth! She's found out it's easy to bake all kinds of cakes and hotbreads perfectly every time—even though she's never tried the recipe before. What she's found is Rumford Baking Powder! For with Rumford you can use any good recipe without worrying about how much baking powder to use. The amount the directions call for is the right amount to use of Rumford. FREE. Send for new booklet, containing dozens of bright ideas to improve your baking. Address: Rumford Baking Powder, Box J, Rumford, Rhode Island.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By SHEPARD BARCLAY
"The Authority on Authorities"

LEARN THIS COMBINATION

ALMOST all fair-to-middling players make the same mistake with one combination of the cards. That is when holding the singly or doubly guarded queen at the left of a declarer, who has an otherwise entryless dummy containing a five or six-card suit headed by the A-J-10. If the declarer leads a small card toward that suit, the average player will nearly always follow the unsound rule of "second hand low," whereas he should put up his queen.

Let us take the combinations which are important when the suit is of five cards. They are as follows:

West	South	East
1 Q X	XXX	K X X
2 Q X	XX	K X X X
3 Q X	K X	X X X X
4 Q X X	X X X	K X
5 Q X X	X X	K X X
6 Q X X	K X	X X X

We can eliminate the situation in which South has the doubly-guarded K, as in that case he would lay down the K first. We can also forget the one in which he has a singleton, since he then will come up with the A on the first round anyway, and also that in which he has as many as four cards, for then we can't block the suit anyway. The only combinations to consider then are those six given above.

With Nos. 1 and 4, playing the Q may result in your side taking two tricks in the suit instead of one, as the declarer almost surely will duck in dummy and finesse on the second round, since probabilities are that you split honors from K-Q-X. With Nos. 2 and 5, your play of the Q makes it absolutely

Tomorrow's Problem

▲ A 8 6 4	▲ 10 9 2
▲ A 8 2	▲ J 6
♦ Q J 8 3 2	▲ A Q J 4
♥ K J	▲ K 10 7 5
♦ Q 10 7 5	▲ K 7 5 3
4 3	▲ K 8
♥ K 9 8 7 6	▲ 5 3 2
▲ None	▲ A 9 6 4

(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

If, during the defense against South's 4-Spades, West ruffs a club with the J, and East later gets a chance for a third-round ruff of a heart, why should he use his 9 instead of his 4?

EVELESS EDEN

RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

by ALLEN EPPES

CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE

"WOULD YOU get over being hurt if the man who jilted you suddenly returned?" Bill asked Eve. "If Carey Watts should come up to The Gap would you be able to forget the hurt and marry him?" "That's impossible," said Eve. "Don't forget that Carey didn't change his mind the second time. He married the other girl."

"But suppose he hadn't? Or suppose he should divorce her, and then come back to you?" "Let's not go on with such silly supposing," said Eve. "It's too ridiculous."

Bill stepped closer to her. "You know, of course," he said, "that knowing you has done things to me? You know that all the time I've spent with you, talking, riding over the mountains, calling on the natives, has changed me—that is, toward Rita."

"No, I don't know it, Bill," Eve said very quietly. "I think you're a bit confused. Knowing me has helped you to recover from what Rita did to you—but that's all. You don't really love me, and so—"

"You have no right to say I don't love you," Bill said. "I do love you. And—and maybe I still love Rita. And that," he made a helpless gesture, "is what's got me down—what's got me all at sea, I keep finding myself wondering if a man can really be in love with two women at the same time."

Eve smiled. "Didn't you ever work out that problem in one of your books?" she asked.

"Hang my books!" said Bill. "You might try pointing at first to Rita and then to me, and saying, 'My mother told me to love this one.' You know, like we did when we were kids and played games."

And the one you're pointing at when you finish is the one you're to love. . . . Don't you think that's a sensible suggestion?"

"I do not," said Bill. "I'm serious. Eve, it's a joking matter."

"Then make it a joking matter. I'll try to help you."

"I'd rather not," Bill was thoughtful. "There's something I want to ask you, Eve."

answered, "I could be happy with him no matter how he made his living."

"You really mean that?"

"Of course I do."

"And you don't love me?"

"I don't think so, Bill. And then again, I—I—"

"Yes, Eve"—very softly—"go on, please."

"Then again I'm not so sure," Eve proceeded. "Sometimes I feel I may be falling in love with you, and then I find myself wondering if it's you or the memories you bring back because of your resemblance to Carey. So you see how it is, Bill. You're not the only one who's confused."

Bill lifted one of Eve's hands and laid it against his lips.

"Promise me," he said, "that you'll try to disassociate me from Carey Watts—and then see whether or not you love me."

"All right, Bill, I promise," said Eve. "I'd like very much to get myself un-mixed." She looked out over the garden where the forms of Rita and Joel were barely discernible. "Who knows but what I might have fallen in love with Joel had he come up here alone?" He was wonderful to me on that first afternoon, and he's given me a picture for the school, and he's—"

"Probably still in love with Rita," said Bill. "Don't think he was kidding at the table just now when he was telling Rita how he had felt about her. He was in love with her."

"And as usual," said Eve, "you came along—and he lost."

"He had the same opportunities that I had to win her," said Bill. "And I've always had an idea that he wanted to get up here to forget Rita. He wasn't a bit happy about my coming up with him, not so much because he didn't want company, but because having me along would remind him constantly of Rita—and those dreams he had about her."

"Is that really true?" said Eve. "I mean about Joel being in love with Rita?"

"It is," said Bill. "It's Ardendale history. And, what's more, it wouldn't surprise me if Joel caught Rita on the rebound, just as I apparently did."

"I see," said Eve. She looked at the time. "I must be getting on home," she said. "I don't like driving down alone too late at night."

"We'll all go down together," Bill said. "Two of us in your car and two in Joel's. . . . We'll drop you at The Gap, and then Joel, Rita and I will drive on down to Asheville."

"That's not a bad idea," said Eve. "I would feel better having someone with me."

"Say, I've got even a better idea," Bill exclaimed.

"What is it?"

"We'll ALL drive down to Asheville. You can leave your car at home, and join us in Joel's car. We'll make a gay night of it; dancing, doing the town up down. How about it?"

"It might be fun at that!" said Eve.

Bill stepped to the end of the porch and called to Joel and Rita. "Come on, you two!" he said. "We're going to drive to Asheville for dancing."

"At this hour?" said Joel, as he and Rita came out of the shadows.

"What of that?" Bill said. "Tomorrow's Sunday. Besides, we've got to take Rita home anyway. You and Eve might as well make a foursome."

"Oh, come along, Joel," Rita urged. "It's been ages since I did any of the gay spots. Living with those cousins of mine was deadly."

Joel looked at Eve. "Is it all right with you, Eve?" he asked.

"Yes, Joel," Eve replied. "I think it'll do us all good. Bill needs a change after working so hard."

"Of course I do," said Bill. "I'll be able to settle down and accomplish something worthwhile, once I've had some recreation."

"All right, then, I'll go," Joel said. "I'll drive you in your car to The Gap, and—"

"Maybe I'd better do that," Bill interrupted. "After all, I know Eve's car better than you do."

Rita shrugged.

"Don't mind me," she said. "Just fight it out among yourselves. You might lose a coin."

"I think I'd like Joel to drive me, Bill," Eve said. "I feel that you and Miss Linwood have a lot to be talked over."

"Very well," said Bill. "Come along, Rita." They went down the steps, and got into Joel's car. "Joel, you lead the way."

"Okay," said Joel. "Be with you as soon as I blow out the candles."

"I'll help you," said Eve.

2nd ANNIVERSARY SPECIAL MONDAY ONLY

23
1940 Philco
Radios
25% to 50%
OFF

Console and Table Models—All Finest Quality—Now, the Buy of a Lifetime!

MONDAY ONLY

EASY CREDIT—LIBERAL TERMS

There's Never A Carrying Charge At Wolf's

WOLF FURNITURE CO.

38 N. MECHANIC ST. OPP. MARYLAND THEATRE

YOU CAN

DEPEND

ON US...

You'll be given Good Service and Full Consideration whenever you want to Central Debating Teams Begin Week of Intensive Training

Inter-Society
Debates Will Be Held SoonTwo Groups Have Met Annually at Lonaconing
Since 1905

LONACONING, March 23 — Debating teams of the Longfellow and Irving Literary societies of the Central high school will start a week of intensive training tomorrow, when they enter the final week before the annual inter-society debate, Friday, March 28, at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The corps of coaches for the two teams will put the finishing touches on their respective groups during the week. The Irving coaches are Miss Alberta Mayer, Miss Helen Groves and John Armstrong. Miss Martha Engle, one of the Irving sponsors until a leave-of-absence this year, is also helping the debaters. Mrs. Hilda Byers, Mrs. Margaret B. Sloan and Lowell M. Sowers are coaching the Longfellows.

Is Annual Affair
Debates between the two literary societies have been held annually since 1905. During this time the Longfellows have won twenty-one debates while the Irvings have fifteen victories. Last year the Irvings won by a unanimous decision in the inter-society contest.

Following the contest of the societies, the annual inter-scholastic debates will be conducted the following week, Friday, April 4. Last year Central debaters tied with Fort Hill of Cumberland, when the Longfellows and Irvings defeated Allegheny high school teams. The Longfellows were defeated in the finals with Fort Hill negative.

The question for debate is: "Resolved: That the recent trend toward increase in the power of the federal government is inimical to the general welfare of the people of the United States."

List of Debaters
Esther Kilstein, Esther Stakem, Edward Noland and Melvin Whitefield will represent the Irving society in defending the negative side of the question, while Wilma Mackey, Mary Goodwin, William Moyer and Harry Dixon will represent the Longfellows in upholding the affirmative side.

Thomas Powers Rites

Funeral services for Thomas L. Powers, 60, who died Wednesday at his home on Robbins street, were held Saturday morning in St. Mary's Catholic church, with the Rev. James C. Murphy officiating. The pallbearers, all nephews, were: John Powers, Thomas E. Powers, James Powers, John J. Powers, Joseph Clark, Thomas Devlin and John Devlin.

A section of the Arion Band of Frostburg and part of the Tri-Towns band attend in uniform and marched in a body from the church to the cemetery. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery, here.

Among those attending were, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Devlin and daughters, Mrs. Emma Mair and son, and granddaughter, Millvale, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Devlin, Baltimore; Sister Leonard, Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. Michael Ferren, and Mrs. John Urtz, Wilkinsburg, Pa.; Mrs. P. O'Sullivan, Turtle Creek, Pa.; John Devlin, Youngstown, Ohio.

Social Notes

Mrs. Felix Foote, Jr., and Miss Jean Nolan entertained, Friday evening with a miscellaneous shower, at the home of Mrs. Harry Stevens, National, in honor of Mrs. John Edwards, the former Miss Katherine Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. Edison Broadwater entertained with a party Friday, celebrating the second birthday of their daughter, Sally Anne.

Mrs. James McPartland entertained Friday night with a card party. Honors went to Miss Eileen Delaney, Mrs. Milton Cuthbertson.

Misses Mamie and Reta Jones Hanekamp street entertained with a party in honor of their niece, Jean Marlene Jones' fourth birthday. Present were Janet and Suzanne Baldwin, Front Royal, Va.; Margaret Ann Murphy, Marlene Castle, Rhea Ann McCormick, Marlene Wilson, Clara Jean Dick, Donna Jean Moffatt, Jacano, Edward and Bobby Emerson, Paul Byrne, Jimmy Jones, Eddie Robertson, Mrs. Charles Moffatt, Mrs. Ella Braznell, Mrs. Catherine Robertson, Mrs. Robert Cameron, Mrs. Mary Jones, and Misses Mary Izat, Ruth Dick, Edith Jones and Margaret Cameron.

Mrs. Strother J. Grahme entertained with three tables of bridge, Friday night. Honors went to Mrs. Frank Haran and Mrs. John Armstrong.

Infant Dies

Catherine Meese, three months old, daughter of Iring Meese, Dan's Mountain, near here, died early Friday.

Besides the parents, three sisters. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Other Tri-State News
On Page Three

Report of Death
Of Samuel S. Cole
Is Untrue Family Says

KITZMILLER, Md., March 23 — Published reports that Samuel S. Cole, 45, of Mt. Lake Park, died Thursday at Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C., are untrue, according to a member of the family.

Cole is now a patient in the Marine hospital, Baltimore, suffering with a severe attack of pneumonia. He is a World War veteran.

Third Hearing
To Be Held on Taxi ApplicationNeil F. Whiteman of Keys-er Seeks To Start New Business

KEYSER, W. Va., March 23 — A third hearing by the Public Service Commission of West Virginia on the application of Neil F. Whiteman, Keyser, to engage in a taxi business will be held in the Mineral county court house here Monday, March 31, at 10 a. m.

The commission twice before has failed to grant Whiteman's application, which is contested by Mac's Taxi company, already operating here. At the first hearing, last August 28, the case was dismissed, and at a re-hearing December 6 Whiteman failed to secure a permit. Royal Cole, Commission investigator, twice recommended that the applicant be granted permission to operate a taxi company.

Whiteman is a former employee of Mac's Taxi, the only taxi company at present in operation here.

To Sponsor Show

The Mountain Echo, a weekly newspaper published here, will sponsor a benefit amateur show Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Knights of Pythias armory.

Except for cash prizes awarded the winners, gate receipts will be turned over to the Keyser Community Chest fund.

D.A.R. Holds Meeting

The regular meeting of Keyser's Potomac Valley chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Friday night at the home of Mrs. Alice Pulliam Perry, North Main street.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. J. T. Little and Mrs. Isaac Mills.

Staff Is Chosen

According to the Hi-Times, student publication at Keyser high school, the staff of the 1941 Keyser school yearbook, was chosen last week.

Editor in chief, Lloyd Hampton; makeup editor, Joe Heare; cartoonist, Lloyd Hampton; business managers, Genevieve Mott and Christine Baldwin; sports editors, Bob Bennett, Keith Martin and Emma Burt; club editor, Rebecca Mauzy; class editor, Ward Haines; proof reader, Christine Shockey; typists, Alan Lee Payne, Eloise Athey and (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Rabbi Lefkowitz Blames Present
War on the Treaty of VersaillesBlames America for the Failure of the League of Nations

Frostburg, March 23 — Rabbi Aaron Lefkowitz, Ber Chayim Congregation, Cumberland, delivered an address tonight at Zion Evangelical and Reformed church, this city, in which he blamed the Treaty of Versailles for the present war in Europe.

Today, he said, we recognize that Clemenceau, Orlando and Lloyd George, representing France, Italy and Great Britain, were determined to make a vanquished Germany pay the price and only Woodrow Wilson, representing the United States, pleaded for a peace without victory, a peace fortified by high moral principles with a granting of mercy to a nation which deserved no mercy.

America Is Not Innocent
America, he declared, is not innocent of the present debacle. By our refusal to join the League of Nations, he continued, we weakened and eventually destroyed the one institution in Europe which could have served as a force for peace and the instrument for international ethics.

The Rabbi, in opening his discourse, asked the questions, "If the Lord be with us, why is right in the scaffold and wrong on the throne?"

Work Will Start
Today on N.Y.A.
Machine ShopGreen Announces Fifty Boys Will Be Employed at Frostburg

FROSTBURG, March 23 — S. W. Green, chairman of the board of Allegheny County Commissioners, stated today that fifty men and boys would be placed at work Monday morning on the construction of the NYA machine shop at the corner of Center street and Park avenue, this city.

200 Attend Meeting

The conference of physical education teachers, held at Frostburg's new high school Saturday morning and afternoon, was attended by nearly 200 physical education teachers and friends from Frederick, Washington, Allegheny and Garrett counties.

The discussions, designed to improve physical education methods, were divided into three groups, elementary, Junior-Senior high girls and Junior-Senior high boys. Discussion leaders included Dr. E. C. Davis, University of Pittsburgh; Dr. Lloyd Jones, Penn State college, State College, Pa.; Miss Griffith, University of West Virginia, and Dr. Reacker, University of Pennsylvania.

Edward Pinzel, physical education instructor of the local high school, was general chairman.

Post Plans Rally

John R. Fairgrieve Post, No. 2462, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a rally Sunday, April 10, in the club rooms, Betz building, this city. The affair will be attended by overseas veterans of the World War and veterans of the Spanish American war. Addresses will be delivered by prominent officials of the organization from Baltimore, Hagerstown and Cumberland. Refreshments will be served.

Charles Eisler Dies

Charles Eisler, 73, retired railroad employe, died this afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Brunner.

Other survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Jose; a son, Olin F. Eisler, three grand children and one great grandchild all of Frostburg. The body will remain at Hafer's Funeral Home.

To Discuss Safety

"Safety Activities" will be the theme of the meeting of the Parent-teacher association of the elementary school of State Teachers college Monday evening, 7:30 o'clock with Miss Angela Brady and the safety patrol in charge.

Thomas Stewart of grade six will lead a round table discussion on safety, others taking part being Willa Shannon, George Thomas, Fatsy Meek, Marguerite McGuire, Andrew Durst, William Faraday and Jean Shriver.

Musical numbers will be rendered by Amelia Brode, Naomi Mackley and Dolores Fisher, pianists, and John Frank, violinist. "Quiz Kids" on safety will be led by Lawrence Hitchens. Others taking part will be Samuel Hunter, Harry Shupe, Jack Hartig, Joanne Durst and James Aldridge. Grade three will dramatize a play (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2)

Garrett County's Oldest Citizen,
George Marley, Is Taken by DeathDeer Park Resident Would Have Been 105 Years
Old April 1

OAKLAND, Md., March 23 — George Marley, patriarch of Deer Park and 104 years old, died this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. D. R. Hinebaugh, of pneumonia, after a two-day illness. He would have been 105 on April 1.

Mr. Marley had been a care, needing strict attention, for the past six months, and had remained in his upstairs room. He had been out to cast his vote for President Roosevelt last November when his family brought him to Oakland for a visit, his first in three years, and when he returned to his room he never left it after that.

Worked for Late Sen. Davis
Mr. Marley had been a resident of Deer Park ever since 1866 when Henry Gassaway Davis took him there to dig a well. For more than forty years he worked for Senator Davis. He was also police officer there for seven years and among his duties were lighting the street lamps at sunset, turning them off at ten. He helped to carry the first person to be buried in Deer Park cemetery.

Fought with Union Army
Deceased was born in Stockton, Durham, England. He was bound to a ship when 11 years old and followed the sea until shortly before the Civil War broke out. By this time he apparently had become a naturalized American citizen. He was then 25 years of age and with other sailors and soldiers was sent out from New York to Fortress Monroe to assist in the capture of some enemy men-of-war. He enlisted in Company C, Ninety-ninth regiment, New York Infantry, and saw action at Cape Hatteras, where he was wounded twice. He also was engaged in battles of Gettysburg, Antietam and the Wilderness. He often told the story of witnessing the battle of the Monitor and the Merrimack. He was honorably discharged June 23, 1865, at age 29.

Was Staunch Democrat
Politics has been his interest for many years. In 1938 he roused his family at 2 a. m., and since that time he could not be fooled about when elections were being held, although due to his infirmities sometimes his family tried to keep him from knowing about them. He always voted the straight Democratic ticket. His first inaugural was President Lincoln's first one. Last fall he bought some fruit trees and made plans to buy a mule in order to farm this summer.

When he became 100 his birthday celebrations became important events and in 1935 the story of his life was broadcast and he received congratulations from the King of England. That birthday story was also the cause of his becoming reunited with his sister, Mrs. Rebecca Cook, of Columbus, Ohio, from whom he became separated prior to the Civil War. His story was conveyed to England and thence back to America to Mrs. Cook and she and her daughters came to Deer Park for the celebration of his 101st anniversary.

Was Father of Ten Children
Mr. Marley was the father of ten (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

Popularity Contest
Won by Jane Hebner
And Buddy Kolb

FLINTSTONE, Md., March 23 — Miss Jane Hebner and Buddy Kolb, were the winners of the popularity contest, sponsored by the Flintstone high school, at a box social here Saturday night.

Approximately 250 people attended the affair, the first of its kind for a number of years. The evening entertainment was under the direction of Jacob Wilson and Bradley Dolly, alumni of the school.

Placing in the popularity contest is as follows:

First place—Jane Hebner and Buddy Kolb. Second place—Helen Wilson and Buster Cheney. Third place—Betty Twig and Bobby Ash. Fourth place—Hilda Fletcher and Bradley Deeter. Fifth place—Audrey Simmons and Calvin Perdue. Sixth place—Geraldine Simmon and Billy Buser. Seventh place—Billy Jean Robinson and Carl Hebner.

Prizes were won by Geraldine Simmon, Olive Athey, Wilbur Athey, Genevieve McKinsey. Cash walk prizes were won by Mildred Swane and Kenneth Smith. Music for the occasion was furnished by Alston, Lester and Elton Mallow.

Personals

Mrs. B. M. Hinkle, Mrs. Herman Browning of Murley's Branch and Mrs. Lester Hinkle of Flintstone, three members of the Hinkle family, were honored by a surprise birthday party given Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Booriz, Bedford Street, Cumberland. Their birthdays were Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday respectively.

Elsie Rader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rader underwent an appendicitis operation at a Cumberland hospital Thursday. Mrs. Charles Babb, Flintstone, is a patient at a Baltimore hospital.

TAKEN BY DEATH

George Marley

Clover Run Farmer
Commits Suicide
In His BedroomAlba J. Phillips, 54 Shoots
Self in Head with Rifle
Placed under Chin

PARSONS, W. Va., March 23 — Alba J. Phillips, 54, a farmer of Clover Run, ten miles west of Parsons, committed suicide, Saturday morning, at 9:15 o'clock, in the bedroom of his home. Phillips had been in ill health for some time and that was thought by his wife and investigating officers to have been the motive for his suicide. He committed suicide by placing a 32-20 cal. Winchester rifle under his chin and pulling the trigger.

Phillips' wife was in the barn feeding the cows at the time of the shooting. She said that she heard two shots, and on hearing them she had a premonition of what had happened, so she called her brother-in-law, M. J. Phillips who lived about 100 yards away to come over. Phillips came over immediately and on going into the bedroom found his brother dead. State Troopers R. G. Coen and C. G. Hamrick and Tucker County Sheriff, Fred Long, were called and investigated the case. The officers stated that the first shot Mrs. Phillips had heard, missed her husband, and that the second shot killed him. A coroner's inquest was held by Squire C. L. Offutt, of Clover District, who pronounced the man a suicide.

Phillips was almost unrecognizable because his face was torn completely away by the discharge from the rifle. His body was brought to the Minear funeral home, here.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Etta Shaffer Phillips and two daughters, Mrs. Opal Lytcher, Parsons, and Mrs. Sylvia Rosier, Montrose. Several brothers and sisters also survive.

Marriage Is Announced

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Muriel Luzier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Luzier, Thomas, to James McDaniel, Parsons. The ceremony was solemnized, Tuesday, February 25, at Oakland, Md., with the Rev. Dr. A. D. Leamer, officiating.

The bride is a graduate of the Thomas high school, class of '39. The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Slaven, Parsons.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert McDaniel, of near Parsons. He attended Parsons high school and is now stationed with the United States Army at Edgewood, Md. At present the bride will continue to reside at her home.

Wed in Church

Announcement is made of the marriage of Mrs. Lydia Fausler to Andrew Hedrick, both of Hamblenton. The ceremony was solemnized, Monday evening, March 17, by the Rev. John Hedrick, pastor of the Baptist church, Parsons.

The bride was attired in a street length dress of dark blue with white accessories.

The bridegroom is employed as section foreman for the Western Maryland railroad. They will reside in Hamblenton.

Brief Items

Mr. and Mrs. John Kasonic, Jr., Davis, announce the birth of a daughter, Sunday, March 16, at the Tucker County hospital, here. The mother is the former Miss Lois Fallon, Davis.

Served as Court
Clerk for 71 Years

BALTIMORE, March 23 (AP) — Peter Stevens, dean of Maryland court clerks and chief deputy clerk of Baltimore city court since 1929, died late yesterday at the age of 91. He had been in continuous service for seventy-one years, having been appointed clerk in the Talbot county court house in 1870.

Mrs. M. P. Reichelt
Succumbs after Long IllnessPioneer Resident Born in Garrett County on October 4, 1852

GRANTSVILLE, March 23 — Mrs. Margaret Pope Reichelt, 88, a native of Garrett county, died early Saturday morning at the home of her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pope, Long Stretch, after an illness of many months. She suffered a stroke of paralysis about three weeks ago and her condition had since been critical.

Mrs. Reichelt was born in this section of the county October 4, 1852, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Pope, both of whom were natives of Germany. She was the sixth of a family of seven children. Mrs. Reichelt was the widow of August Reichelt who died some thirty years ago. For a time she resided in the Cove community and later on a farm near Keyser's Ridge. A few years after the death of her husband she disposed of the Keyser's Ridge property and made her home with relatives in the Long Stretch section.

She had resided with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pope for about two years. She had been a member of the German Lutheran church at Cove since early childhood. Her only son died some years ago.

Surviving are her brother, David Pope, Long Stretch, and three stepchildren, the Rev. Daniel Reichelt, Milford, N. J., Mrs. Rosie Yonther, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Joseph Reichelt, Winifred, Mont. She was an aunt of Miss Lizzie Klotz, Louis and Daniel Klotz, Grantsville. Funeral services are to be held at Mt. Zion Monday.

Sugar Groves Are Tapped

Friday and Saturday were busy days for sugar grove owners in this section when those who had not already done so completed the tapping of their sugar maple trees. The weather was ideal and the trees were said to be "leaking" copiously.

There is some speculation as to whether this season will terminate in a good one or a very poor one. Often at this time of the year the sugar season is practically over, while this year it has scarcely begun. However, the season last year did not open up until about this time and the production reported a fairly good run. So they are hoping for the best again this year. Many of the farmers had everything in readiness to begin last week but were delayed by the severe snow storm.

Light snow flurries during the night, followed by bright, balmy days, is considered ideal sugar weather. Slight freezes too, are conducive to sweet, clear water and prevents the flow from becoming sappy.

Society Opens Campaign

The Garrett County Historical Society, which was recently organized, will open their membership campaign this week according to an announcement by Charles E. Hove, president. Five hundred members on the Founders' Roll is the goal which the society has set for itself. There are no annual dues. A fee of $1 is set for regular memberships or $10 for a life membership. "The Glades Star," a bulletin (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

The Rev. Stephen Hartigan, O.F.M.
Speaks at Mt. Savage ServicesOrigin and History of the Franciscan Order Is Reviewed

MT. SAVAGE, March 23 — The Rev. Stephen Hartigan, O.F.M., of the Holy Name Seminary, Washington, gave a brief address at both Masses in St. Patrick's Catholic church this morning. Father Hartigan is a Franciscan Friar and recently returned from abroad, where he was stationed for several years in the Holy Lands.

In his talks Father Hartigan related the origin and history of the Franciscan Order, which was founded by St. Francis of Assisi. These missionaries spread Christianity through early Europe and the Far East and a number of them sailed with Columbus on his first trip to America. They did much toward the cultivation of civilization in this country. Father Hartigan concluded by making a special plea for financial aid in the sponsoring of missions in the home field of the southern states.

Brief Items

The Young People's Fellowship organization will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in St. George's parish house. Final arrangements will be made for the card party to

Calves Refuse To Eat
With Friendly Deer

MIDDLEBOURNE, W. Va., March 23 (AP) — Zack Pierpoint's seven yearling Hereford calves are losing weight because they won't share their daily meals with a friendly deer.

The Middlebourne farmer said that each morning and evening for the past two weeks the doe has appeared at the feeding rack for a handout. The calves, however, refuse to accept the uninvited guest and retire to a remote corner of the pasture, waiting until the intruder gets her fill.

Pierpoint said he is trying to create a mutual understanding between the animals because he has to spend several hours a day keeping the deer away from the rack.

Funeral Services
Held for Former Barton CitizenRobert D. McCormick Dies in Pittsburgh after Short Illness

BARTON, March 23 — Funeral services for Robert D. McCormick, 41, former resident who died at 4 a. m., Thursday in the Presbyterian hospital, Pittsburgh, Pa., after a lingering illness, were conducted today at 2:30 p. m. at the local Presbyterian church, with the Rev. Stanley Jewel of Airville, Pa., officiating, assisted by the Rev. O. S. Edwards, local church pastor.

Pallbearers were James O'Rourke, Courtney Andrews, William Logsdon, Henry Howell, Alvin Logsdon and Leon Kirk.

Mr. McCormick left here about twelve years ago, and prior to becoming ill was employed in the store of Jones and Laughlin company of Aliquippa, Pa., where he had made his home since leaving here. He was ill three weeks before entering the Pittsburgh hospital.

Interment was in Laurel Hill cemetery, Moscow.

New Books Received

The Barton school community library announces the following books are now available to the Rental Club this month:

"Out of the Night," "Sapphira and the Slave Girl," "Behind God's Back," "To Sing With the Angels," "For Whom the Bells Toll," "Jennifer," "Raleigh's Eden," and "Invitation to Live."

The library furniture has been refinished in a dark, grained oak.

Brief Items

The Junior Class of the Barton high school will hold a skating party Thursday, March 27, in the Freemen's Rink, here.

Canadian Plants Make
40 Planes a Week

MONTREAL, March 23 (AP) — Canadian aviation plants are producing approximately forty military planes a week, Ralph Bell, director general of aircraft production, announced yesterday.

About 7,000 skilled and semi-skilled workers are employed in local plane factories—Vickers, Fairchild and Noorduyn.

The Rev. Stephen Hartigan, O.F.M.
Speaks at Mt. Savage Services be sponsored by the group Thursday evening in the parish house.

The Mt. Savage Council of the Knights of Columbus will sponsor a party Monday evening March 31, at 8:30 o'clock in St. Patrick's hall.

Special Lenten services will be (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Night School Is Arranged by NYA DirectorRegistration Will Be Held at Bruce High Wednesday Evening

WESTERNPORT, March 23 — A meeting was held Saturday afternoon at the new Frostburg high school by Hershel James, Baltimore, assistant vocational director and several prospective teachers to conduct a night school under the sponsorship of the National Youth Administration as a part of the defense program.

Registration will be held at Bruce high school Tuesday evening 7 to 9 o'clock for persons between the age of 17 and 25 years of age. Home economics will be taught by Miss Margaret Hayden, office practice by Miss Mary Hanna, general wood work shop and blue reading by John Laughlin and David O. Taxis. They are all members of the Bruce high school faculty. The course will run for ten weeks.

Eastern Star Meets

Mrs. Lora Robinson, Cumberland, Lecturer, made her official visit to Bethlehem Chapter No. 14 Order of the Eastern Star Friday evening.

After the business meeting a birthday party was held the honor guests were those having birthdays in January, February and March. There were twelve honored. The birthday table was decorated in green and white and a large birthday cake which was presented by Mrs. David McIntyre, Sr. was the centerpiece.

Mrs. Delphia Boice Dies

Mrs. Delphia Boice, 44, of 21 West Hampshire street, Piedmont, died Sunday morning at 5 o'clock in Memorial hospital, Cumberland, where she had been a patient since March 19.

She was the wife of Charles Boice and a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Philip Barnhouse.

Tri Town Personals

Miss Marguerite Neff, Washington, D. C. spent the week end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Neff, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Determan, Westernport, announce the birth of a daughter, Saturday morning at Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser, W. Va.

Harry Walker and Carl Getty church street spent the week end in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Boor, Pied-

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

New Spring

ANKLETS

by Phoenix

25¢

Misses and Women's

Plain or Fancy

Frostburg
DEPARTMENT STORE

Special Monday Only

Swift's Premium

Prem

23¢

con

COBEY ENGLE
MEAT MARKET

Phone 50, Frostburg

PALACE THEATRE
FROSTBURG, MD.

Today, Tonight and Tuesday

Gone With The Wind

With CLARK GABLE - OLIVIA DE HAVILLAND - LESTER HOWARD and SYLVIA LEIGH
Limited Engagement—Nothing Cut But The Price

Monday and Tuesday

Matinee: Doors open at 1:30. Show starts at 2. Adm. 40c including tax. Children under 12 years of age, 25c including tax.
Night: Doors open at 7:30. Show starts at 8. Adm. all seats 50c including tax. No children's tickets will be sold.
No Passes Accepted

NBA Rates Christofordis 175 Pound Champ

Conn Is Classed As Contender for Louis's Title

Max Baer and Lou Nova Also Named as "Outstanding" Heavyweights

MILWAUKEE, March 23 (AP)—The National Boxing association today listed Anton Christofordis of Greece as the light-heavyweight champion and moved Billy Conn, the former king of 175-pounders, into the heavyweight division as one of the three outstanding boxers to meet Joe Louis.

The association reported that there were no logical contenders for Louis's crown. The boxing board groups the best fighters in every weight division as logical contenders, outstanding boxers, and worthy of honorable mention. Champions are ordered to fight at least one outstanding boxer six months after winning a title and one logical contender at least once a year.

Max Baer, Conn and Lou Nova were the only three fighters listed in the heavyweight division. The New Yorker who started thirteen rounds with Louis at Detroit Friday is given honorable mention along with eleven others.

For the first time in several years the NBA ratings fail to list the names of two former champions, Henry Armstrong and Lou Ambers. Both have retired.

Fred J. Saddy, chairman of the NBA Championship committee, declared the National Boxing association was willing to do anything within its power to settle disputes over recognition of champions. Some of the fighters recognized as champions by the NBA are not recognized in New York and other states not members of the association.

Champions recognized by the NBA are Louis, heavyweight; Christofordis, light-heavyweight; Tony Zale, middleweight; Fritz Zivic, welterweight; Sammy Angott, lightweight; Pete Scalzo, featherweight; Lou Salina, bantamweight; and Little Dado, flyweight.

Golden Eagles Win Tourney

The Piedmont Golden Eagles won the negro basketball tournament played at the Frederick street school last week by defeating the Cumberland Hurricanes in the final game, 12 to 7. The Hurricanes won the right to play Piedmont by eliminating Frederick street high 12 to 7.

Team	W	L	W-L
HURRICANES	10	1	9-1
Golden Eagles	8	1	7-1
Frederick St.	6	2	4-2
St. Louis	4	4	0-0
St. Paul	3	3	0-0
St. Peter	2	2	0-0
St. John	1	1	0-0
St. Mary	1	1	0-0
St. Anne	1	1	0-0
St. Francis	1	1	0-0
St. Vincent	1	1	0-0
St. Elizabeth	1	1	0-0
St. Joseph	1	1	0-0
St. Michael	1	1	0-0
St. Raphael	1	1	0-0
St. Thome	1	1	0-0
St. Agnes	1	1	0-0
St. Clare	1	1	0-0
St. James	1	1	0-0
St. Martin	1	1	0-0
St. Patrick	1	1	0-0
St. Rose	1	1	0-0
St. Theresa	1	1	0-0
St. Ursula	1	1	0-0
St. Vincent	1	1	0-0
St. Elizabeth	1	1	0-0
St. Joseph	1	1	0-0
St. Michael	1	1	0-0
St. Raphael	1	1	0-0
St. Thome	1	1	0-0
St. Agnes	1	1	0-0
St. Clare	1	1	0-0
St. James	1	1	0-0
St. Martin	1	1	0-0
St. Patrick	1	1	0-0
St. Rose	1	1	0-0
St. Theresa	1	1	0-0
St. Ursula	1	1	0-0

Boxing and Smoker Is Feature of Burley Club Show

The Burley Athletic Club held a boxing and smoker last week with several amateur scrappers participating.

Taking part in the ten exhibitions were Jimmy Childress, 135, and "Chin" Davis, 141, Ray Palmer, 129, and Davey Caparale, 125; Pat Kilroy, 179, and "Red" Davis, 186; "Spider" Kessler, 149, and George Golden, 151; Hook Hammon, 115, and Dick Post, 116; James Montelove, 119, and Ray Hammon, 126, and "Monk" Hannin, 130; Bill Luitman, 135, and Charley Fricks, 130, and Jack Baumgardner, 85, and Joe Snyder, 88.

"Red" Burley was timekeeper, Mike Findley announcer and John Welsh, referee.

Junior Business Boys Down Eagles

The Junior Business Boys of the Y. M. C. A. defeated the Golden Eagles Saturday at the "Y" 49 to 21. Whitman with 17 and Mangus with 11 were leading scorers.

Team	W	L	W-L
JUNIOR BUSINESS BOYS	10	1	9-1
Golden Eagles	8	1	7-1
Frederick St.	6	2	4-2
St. Louis	4	4	0-0
St. Paul	3	3	0-0
St. Peter	2	2	0-0
St. John	1	1	0-0
St. Mary	1	1	0-0
St. Anne	1	1	0-0
St. Francis	1	1	0-0
St. Vincent	1	1	0-0
St. Elizabeth	1	1	0-0
St. Joseph	1	1	0-0
St. Michael	1	1	0-0
St. Raphael	1	1	0-0
St. Thome	1	1	0-0
St. Agnes	1	1	0-0
St. Clare	1	1	0-0
St. James	1	1	0-0
St. Martin	1	1	0-0
St. Patrick	1	1	0-0
St. Rose	1	1	0-0
St. Theresa	1	1	0-0
St. Ursula	1	1	0-0
St. Vincent	1	1	0-0
St. Elizabeth	1	1	0-0
St. Joseph	1	1	0-0
St. Michael	1	1	0-0
St. Raphael	1	1	0-0
St. Thome	1	1	0-0
St. Agnes	1	1	0-0
St. Clare	1	1	0-0
St. James	1	1	0-0
St. Martin	1	1	0-0
St. Patrick	1	1	0-0
St. Rose	1	1	0-0
St. Theresa	1	1	0-0
St. Ursula	1	1	0-0

Team	W	L	W-L
GOLDEN EAGLES	8	1	7-1
Frederick St.	6	2	4-2
St. Louis	4	4	0-0
St. Paul	3	3	0-0
St. Peter	2	2	0-0
St. John	1	1	0-0
St. Mary	1	1	0-0
St. Anne	1	1	0-0
St. Francis	1	1	0-0
St. Vincent	1	1	0-0
St. Elizabeth	1	1	0-0
St. Joseph	1	1	0-0
St. Michael	1	1	0-0
St. Raphael	1	1	0-0
St. Thome	1	1	0-0
St. Agnes	1	1	0-0
St. Clare	1	1	0-0
St. James	1	1	0-0
St. Martin	1	1	0-0
St. Patrick	1	1	0-0
St. Rose	1	1	0-0
St. Theresa	1	1	0-0
St. Ursula	1	1	0-0
St. Vincent	1	1	0-0
St. Elizabeth	1	1	0-0
St. Joseph	1	1	0-0
St. Michael	1	1	0-0
St. Raphael	1	1	0-0
St. Thome	1	1	0-0
St. Agnes	1	1	0-0
St. Clare	1	1	0-0
St. James	1	1	0-0
St. Martin	1	1	0-0
St. Patrick	1	1	0-0
St. Rose	1	1	0-0
St. Theresa	1	1	0-0
St. Ursula	1	1	0-0

Exhibition Games

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AT ST. LOUIS, Mo. 3-23-41
 BOSTON (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8
 Boston (A) 100 100 100-4-8-8

AS LOUIS FINISHES IN THIRTEENTH

Ade Simon hangs away-eyed on the ropes while the referee gives Joe Louis a technical knockout decision in the thirteenth round of their bout in Detroit's Olympia stadium. Sport writers at the ringside claimed that Simon proved to be one of the greatest fighters Louis has met in his fifteen defenses of his heavyweight title. Promoter Mike Jacobs announced a return bout in New York city on May 16.

The Sportlight

by GRANTLAND RICE
 (Released by North American Newspaper Alliance)

The Player and the Draft

TAMPA, Fla.—The shadow of the draft is extending farther and deeper than you might think over the ball camps of spring. The young and unmarried especially are wondering more and more just when they will be tapped—when the uniform and bat will be traded for the khaki and the gun.

A great many more ball players are going to be called by midsummer than most managers ever thought possible.

Many players have suddenly discovered that what they thought were high numbers last fall are now low numbers, and these numbers are getting lower every day.

I was sitting on the bench yesterday with one of the well-known entries. I wanted to get his angle of the draft matter.

"It's pretty tough on a lot of fellows like myself," he said. "I have been hustling and working five years to get my shot, at good money. Through those five years I was able to save little. Now I have my first good contract and I look like I'll have to give it up."

"In addition to this I have a mother who is dependent on me. By the time I get out of the army I can't expect to get near the money I can earn this spring and summer. And there won't be much time left in my profession. I think this hits ball players harder than anyone else."

I tried to explain that ball players, football players and all other athletes were supposed to make the best soldiers. They were supposed to be in better physical shape. If many of these were passed by or given deferment there would be a howl to heaven from every camp in the country. The more prominent the athlete the surer he was to get called when his number arrived.

"Suppose," I asked, "that you were in the army, possibly as a clerk

11 Couples Receive Marriage Licenses

Floyd Armond Gail and Mary Jane Keener, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Ralph Richard Leiman, Somerset, Pa., Thelma Irene Mull, Lister, Pa.
Robert Mamfort Zerfos and May Clara Bowman, Friedens, Pa.
Jacob Irvin Fritz and Anne Hazel Bartok, Fairport, O.

Wilton Love Ruckman and Mary Alice Keller, Moorefield, W. Va.
Robert William Moss, St. Michael, Pa.
Elizabeth Pearl Gossar, Windget, Pa.
William Thomas Hutton, Baltimore, Md.
Calista Evelyn Koonig, Cumberland, Md.

Clarence Charles Myers, Moscow, Md., Anna James Tichnell, Lonaconing, Md.

Kenneth Clark Burbick and Anna Olive English, Cleveland, O.

James Cyprian Brennan and Florence Leaps, Somerville, Mineral

Trailing 21 to 14 at half-time Local 1874 fired a fifteen point blast at the Philco in the third quarter while holding the Pennsylvanians to four points which enabled the Sikken to take a three point lead

John Wayne Branchack, California, Pa. Eleanor Roll, Coal Center, Pa.

Former Allegheny County

Former Annapolis County School Teacher Dies
At the Age of 94

Mrs. S. Maria Scott, one of the three teachers to found the first female public school at Annapolis in 1871, died last night at the home of a granddaughter, Mrs. Allen Beveridge, at the age of 94.

	Local	1874	G.	P.G.	P.H.
McNeill, daughter of Lyander McCullough of Rayville, Md., was one of the first graduates of the State Teachers college at Towson, shortly after the Civil war. After helping found the Annapolis female school, she taught at Bethesda and at the Maryland Normal school at College Park, Md., for several years. She is now at the University of Maryland at College Park, Md., where she is a member of the faculty.

	Points	HOLIDAYS/REG.	G	F	G	F
Hughes, J.	1	0-0	0	0	0	0
Huggins, J.	1	0-0	0	0	0	0
Parbong, C.	2	1-3	7	0	0	0
R. Hager, C.	1	0-0	0	0	0	0
Clark, E.	1	0-0	0	0	0	0
Smith, J.	4	0-0	0	0	0	0
Smith, J.	1	0-0	0	0	0	0
Seitz, J.	1	0-0	0	0	0	0
Hindinger, M.	6	0-0	0	0	0	0

CRASH ON MARCH 13 REPORTED IMPROVING

Three of six persons who were injured the night of March 13 in an automobile collision on the McAdams Highway in Allegany County, Md., are reported to be improving.

The crash occurred at about 10:30 p.m. on the highway, which is a two-lane road. The crash involved a 1964 Ford Mustang and a 1964 Chevrolet. The Mustang was driven by a 21-year-old man, and the Chevrolet was driven by a 22-year-old man. Both men were injured in the crash. The Mustang driver was taken to the Allegany County Hospital, and the Chevrolet driver was taken to the St. Mary's Hospital in Baltimore. Both men are expected to survive.

The crash is being investigated by the Allegany County Sheriff's Office. The investigation is still in progress.

Allegany Reserves Defeat Ellerslie

The Allegany County Football Club defeated the Ellerslie Football Club 14-10 in a game played at the Allegany County Stadium on March 13. The game was the first of a series of games between the two clubs. The Allegany County club is the defending champion of the Maryland Football League. The Ellerslie club is a new club in the league. The game was a close one, with the Ellerslie club leading 10-14 at the end of the third quarter. However, the Allegany County club scored a touchdown in the fourth quarter to win the game.

city limits were improving last night at Allegheny hospital.

They are James W. Ash, 48, Mrs. Clara Hutton, 42, and Paize Pratt, 16, all of Wiley Ford, W. Va.

All three and Charles Pratt, 27, of Piedmont, W. Va., were injured when the car in which they were riding overturned by Ash, who struck Allegheny reserves defeated Ellerslie A. A. here Saturday night 38 to 21 in a preliminary to the Cambridge-Allegheny high clash.

Critics with 11 points led the Reserves while See with 10 points was best for Ellerslie.

Groups: A. A. 6, Ellerslie 6, Cambridge 6, Allegheny 6, Reserves 6, See 6.

by a machine driven by Lawrence	CHICK, F.	1	1.2
H. Clark, 27, of 426 Goethe street.	CHICK, F.	1	1.2
Clark and Asa Broadwater, 25, of	EDWARDS, E.	1	1.2
703 Leiper street, riding in the car.	EDWARDS, E.	1	1.2
They were discharged last week from	NEIDERT, R.	1	1.2
local hospitals.	NEIDERT, R.	1	1.2
	LOVER, S.	1	1.2
	LOVER, S.	1	1.2
Police said charges will be placed	Totals	18	4.3
against Clark when the three per-	Non-scoring	1	1.2
sons in the hospital are discharged	ELLERSLIE, G.	1	1.2
while	ELLERSLIE, G.	1	1.2

SEVEN BIRTHS ARE REPORTED HERE OVER WEEK-END	<table> <tr> <td>Mar. 1</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>1</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 2</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>2</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 3</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>3</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 4</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>4</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 5</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>5</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 6</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>6</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 7</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>7</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 8</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>8</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 9</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>9</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 10</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>10</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 11</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>11</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 12</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>12</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 13</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>13</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 14</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>14</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 15</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>15</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 16</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>16</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 17</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>17</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 18</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>18</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 19</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>19</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 20</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>20</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 21</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>21</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 22</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>22</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 23</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>23</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 24</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>24</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 25</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>25</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 26</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>26</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 27</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>27</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 28</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>28</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 29</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>29</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 30</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>30</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Mar. 31</td> <td>Miller, E.</td> <td>6</td> <td>0</td> <td>31</td> </tr> </table>	Mar. 1	Miller, E.	6	0	1	Mar. 2	Miller, E.	6	0	2	Mar. 3	Miller, E.	6	0	3	Mar. 4	Miller, E.	6	0	4	Mar. 5	Miller, E.	6	0	5	Mar. 6	Miller, E.	6	0	6	Mar. 7	Miller, E.	6	0	7	Mar. 8	Miller, E.	6	0	8	Mar. 9	Miller, E.	6	0	9	Mar. 10	Miller, E.	6	0	10	Mar. 11	Miller, E.	6	0	11	Mar. 12	Miller, E.	6	0	12	Mar. 13	Miller, E.	6	0	13	Mar. 14	Miller, E.	6	0	14	Mar. 15	Miller, E.	6	0	15	Mar. 16	Miller, E.	6	0	16	Mar. 17	Miller, E.	6	0	17	Mar. 18	Miller, E.	6	0	18	Mar. 19	Miller, E.	6	0	19	Mar. 20	Miller, E.	6	0	20	Mar. 21	Miller, E.	6	0	21	Mar. 22	Miller, E.	6	0	22	Mar. 23	Miller, E.	6	0	23	Mar. 24	Miller, E.	6	0	24	Mar. 25	Miller, E.	6	0	25	Mar. 26	Miller, E.	6	0	26	Mar. 27	Miller, E.	6	0	27	Mar. 28	Miller, E.	6	0	28	Mar. 29	Miller, E.	6	0	29	Mar. 30	Miller, E.	6	0	30	Mar. 31	Miller, E.	6	0	31
Mar. 1	Miller, E.	6	0	1
Mar. 2	Miller, E.	6	0	2
Mar. 3	Miller, E.	6	0	3
Mar. 4	Miller, E.	6	0	4
Mar. 5	Miller, E.	6	0	5
Mar. 6	Miller, E.	6	0	6
Mar. 7	Miller, E.	6	0	7
Mar. 8	Miller, E.	6	0	8
Mar. 9	Miller, E.	6	0	9
Mar. 10	Miller, E.	6	0	10
Mar. 11	Miller, E.	6	0	11
Mar. 12	Miller, E.	6	0	12
Mar. 13	Miller, E.	6	0	13
Mar. 14	Miller, E.	6	0	14
Mar. 15	Miller, E.	6	0	15
Mar. 16	Miller, E.	6	0	16
Mar. 17	Miller, E.	6	0	17
Mar. 18	Miller, E.	6	0	18
Mar. 19	Miller, E.	6	0	19
Mar. 20	Miller, E.	6	0	20
Mar. 21	Miller, E.	6	0	21
Mar. 22	Miller, E.	6	0	22
Mar. 23	Miller, E.	6	0	23
Mar. 24	Miller, E.	6	0	24
Mar. 25	Miller, E.	6	0	25
Mar. 26	Miller, E.	6	0	26
Mar. 27	Miller, E.	6	0	27
Mar. 28	Miller, E.	6	0	28
Mar. 29	Miller, E.	6	0	29
Mar. 30	Miller, E.	6	0	30
Mar. 31	Miller, E.	6	0	31

CHICAGO, MARCH 23. — A battle for the National Catholic high school basketball champions will begin Wednesday with an opening game between St. Ger-

A daughter was born Saturday morning at Memorial hospital to Mr. and Mrs. James Lambert of Bowman's Addition.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent R. Eversole, 316 Necessity street, announce the birth of a son yesterday morning at Allegheny hospital.

A daughter was born Saturday morning at Memorial hospital to Mr. and Mrs. James Lambert of Bowman's Addition.

Sixteen first round games will be completed Friday morning, to be followed immediately by the rounds of sixteen.

First round pairings include:

Thursday, 10 a. m. — St. Mary's, Lake Mead, vs. — morning at Memorial hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. Ludwik Brings, of Long.
Mr. and Mrs. George William
Wilson, 901 Glennwood street, announce the birth of a daughter yesterday morning at Memorial hospital.

SPECIAL

Cash & Carry Rates On Dry Cleaning!

MEN'S SUITS
LADIES' DRESSES

Refresh your Easter wardrobe now, with great savings! Take advantage of our present low rates...before the Easter rush!

ALL GARMENTS MOTHPROOFED BY OUR EXCLUSIVE MONITE PROCESS

We Also Call For And Deliver — Phone 19

 Robert Day

Peter Pan Cleaners
158 N. Centre St.
636 N. Centre St.
16 S. Liberty St.

—And Don't Look So Surprised, Dear!

BRICK BRADFORD—On the Throne of Titania

MUGGS AND SKEETER

BIG SISTER

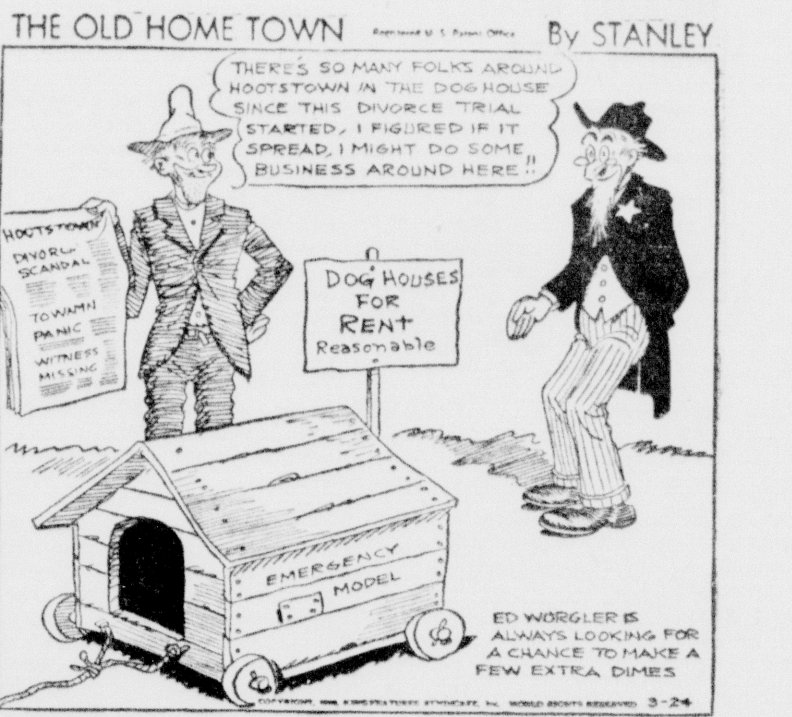

"BARNEY GOOGLE AND SNUFFY SMITH"

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

ETTA KETT

DAILY CROSSWORD

ACROSS

- Hat
- Food fish
- Ballot
- Brother of Cain
- So be it
- Size of paper
- A spritz
- Epoch
- Blows as a horn
- A seat
- Missile weapon
- Unit of weight
- Fawns upon
- Play on words
- Says again
- Long for
- Semblance
- Wished
- Come in
- Kind of tree
- Jardiniere
- Comfort
- Molded mass
- Observed
- Those not in office
- Guided
- Crude metal

DOWN

- Console
- Devoured
- Enclosure
- Bounder
- Fetish
- Debases
- Courage
- Kind of poetry
- Greek letter
- Large cask
- Measure
- Locate
- Tea
- Flowers
- Peasants
- Sea eagle
- Perceive
- Game at cards
- Belonging to us

Saturday's Answer

1	2	3	4	5	6
7	8	9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30
31	32	33	34	35	36
37	38	39	40	41	42
43	44	45	46	47	48

Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Funeral Notice

Funeral Notice
 DECEASED—Charles Robert, aged 37, of 1015 Oak street, died Sunday, March 23, at Allegheny hospital. He was the husband of Anna Miller Bryant. The body was removed to Stein's Funeral Home where friends will be received and services held Tuesday, 1:30 p. m. The Rev. W. H. Steiner will officiate. Interment in Hillcrest cemetery. Arrangements by Stein's Funeral Service. 3-24-11-N

In Memoriam

In Memoriam
 In memory of Ruth V. Campbell, who died March 24, 1940.
 We miss you more as time goes on. The days seem endless and long. When Heaven took you Easter morn Our hearts were left without a song. You were always there when we came home. Piled with laughter, love, and cheer. We know you are forever gone. But we will always want you near.
 HUSBAND AND DAUGHTERS
 3-24-11-N

2—Automotive

2—Automotive
 1938 OLDSMOBILE COUPE, excellent, $370. 25,000 miles. Elmer Robertson, Ellerslie. 3-22-31-N
 1935 PLYMOUTH 4-door, heater, good condition, $165, terms. Elmer Robertson, Ellerslie. 3-21-11-T

USED CARS — Collins' Garage
 Studebaker, Diamond "T" Sales, 125 S. Mechanic, Phone 1542. 2-29-11-T

$50 BELOW MARKET prices: 1934-37 models, all makes, 7-passenger Buick, VanVoorhis, Hyndman, Phone 6-J. 3-4-31-T

USED CARS

ST. GEORGE MOTOR CO.

STEINLA
 MOTOR AND TRANSPORTATION COMPANY INC.
 HUDSON, ORAHAM INTERNATIONAL
 131 S. Mechanic St. Phone 2350

Clisans' Garage

Dodge and Plymouth Cars

Don't let PRICE fool you. Get the difference in the Trade That's What Counts. Heiskell Motor Sales "Frostburg's Ford Dealer"

See "Dave" and "Art" at RELIABLE MOTORS CO. For a Better Used Car

'41—Best Buick Yet

Thompson Buick

CORPORATION Phone 1410
 125 N. Mechanic St.

WE PAY CASH FOR LATE MODEL USED CARS

ELCAR SALES

Opp New Post Office Phone 344

Oscar Gurley

Distributor Chrysler & Plymouth
 George & Harrison Sts. Phone 1852

SPOERL'S GARAGE, Inc.

28 N. George St. Since 1898 Phone 301

Frantz Oldsmobile

163 Bedford St. Phone 1994

Taylor Motor Co.

THE BEST IN USED CARS
 OPEN EVENINGS
 311 N. Mechanic St. Phone 395

1940 De Soto 4 Door Sedan, like new, only... $650
 1939 De Soto Sedan, Radio and Heater, $750
 Fletcher Motor Phone 280

Fort Cumberland Motors

Packard Cars & White Trucks
 561 Frederick St. Phone 2665

Hare Motor Sales

USED CARS
 "To Deal Fair See HARE"
 215 S. Mechanic St. Phone 1512

Guaranteed Used Cars At SQUARE DEAL
 Next to Imperial Ice Cream Co.
 14 Wineow St. Phone 1171

Soft "Dress-Up" Shirtwaister

Marian Martin

PATTERN 9683

This new Marian Martin dress, Pattern 9683 is a real "conversation piece!" For though it's in the familiar shirtwaister style it has a new point of view in its many novel graceful touches. The back and front yokes are cut in a single easy piece. The clean cut notched collar, front bodice buttoning, gathered, bloused lines and simple short or short sleeves are all familiar shirtwaister features. But there's fashion news in the hip-yokes of the skirt that point right down into the seams of the panels in a marvelously slimming effect. Dress-up the style with gray flower buttons and with a decorative belt... make it in a soft dainty fabric... and wear it for any daytime occasion!

Pattern 9683 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents in coins for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address, and style number.

The Marian Martin 1941 Pattern Book is a real scoop on fashion news, with the latest styles, fabric ideas and accessory tips! Every design is original, easy to make and sure to fit into your budget plans. And each is in a realistic, "come to life" illustration. There are day and evening modes in the slim silhouette trend... sports and travel wear... bridal and graduation gowns. Just-right styles for everyone—send for a copy today! Book fifteen cents. Pattern fifteen cents. Book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Send your order to Cumberland News Pattern Department, 232 W. Baltimore St., New York, N. Y.

9683

14 Wineow St. Phone 1171

2—Automotive

OLDSMOBILE Sales and Service
 St. Cloud Motor, Phone 14. Frostburg. 2-15-11-T

'41—Best Buick Yet and Best Trade-Ins

1939 Buick 4-Dr. Sedan, Radio, Heater, $699
 1938 Buick Special 4-Dr. Sedan $599
 1937 Buick Special 4-Dr. Sedan $499
 1937 Pontiac 4-Dr. Tour. Sedan $445
 1937 Ford Fordor Sedan $295
 1936 Buick Special 4-Dr. Sedan $395
 1936 Ford Fordor Sedan $245
 1935 Chevrolet 2-Dr. Sedan $225
 1934 Studebaker 4-Dr. Sedan $145
 1933 Chevrolet 4-Dr. Sedan $115
 Thompson Buick Corp.
 429 N. Mechanic St. Phone 1470

2—Automotive

USED CARS at Cumberland's Lowest Prices. M. G. K. Motor Co. 2-26-11-T

Buy Yourself a Good Used Car from Your Oldsmobile Dealer

39 Olds 4-Dr. Tr. Sedan
 39 Olds 2-Dr. Tr. Sedan
 38 Pontiac 2-Dr. Tr. Sedan
 38 Chevrolet 4-Dr. Tr. Sedan
 37 Dodge 4-Dr. Tr. Sedan
 37 Olds 2-Dr. Tr. Sedan
 36 Buick 4-Dr. Tr. Sedan
 36 Dodge 2-Dr. Tr. Sedan
 36 Dodge 4-Dr. Tr. Sedan
 Model A Ford Coach

Frantz Olds. Co. Sales & Service

163 Bedford St. Phone 1994

FOR A BETTER USED CAR SEE TAYLOR

1940 Pontiac 2 Door Tour. Sedan
 1940 Buick Touring Sedan
 1940 Packard "6" Tour. Sedan
 1940 Dodge Tour. Sedan
 1940 Plymouth Deluxe Coupe
 1940 Plymouth Deluxe 2-Door Sedan
 1940 DeSoto Custom Sedan
 1939 Chevrolet Tr. Sedan
 1939 Plymouth Deluxe Sedan
 1939 Buick Tr. Sedan
 1939 Oldsmobile Deluxe Coupe
 1939 Plymouth Deluxe 2 Door Sedan
 And 50 Others to Select From From 31 to 41 Models
 Terms and Trades Accepted

Taylor Motor Co.

217 N. Mechanic St. Phone 395

Compare Prices

34 Dodge Deluxe Sedan $175
 37 Plymouth Deluxe Sedan $235
 36 Buick Deluxe Sedan $275
 1939 Lincoln Zephyr Sedan $350
 36 Olds Deluxe Sedan $285
 39 Buick Deluxe Sedan $495
 39 Ford Deluxe Sedan $495
 35 Ford Deluxe Roadster $320
 38 Pontiac Deluxe Sedan $425

Cumberland Loan Co.

42 N. Mechanic St. Phone 607-34

GET A BETTER DEAL FROM YOUR PONTIAC DEALER

SEE THESE BARGAINS

1940 Chevrolet 4-Dr. Sedan
 1940 Pontiac 2 Dr. Tr. Sedan
 1939 Chevrolet 4-Dr. Sedan
 1939 Buick 4-Dr. Sedan R. & H.
 1939 Olds 4 Dr. Tr. Sedan R. & H.
 1939 Pontiac Coupe, Heater
 1939 Pontiac 4 Dr. Tr. Sedan
 1938 Pontiac Coach, R. & H.
 1937 Pontiac 4 Dr. Tr. Sedan
 1937 Ford Tudor Sedan
 1936 Pontiac 2 Dr. Tr. Sedan
 1936 Pontiac 4 Dr. Tr. Sedan
 1936 Ford Fordor Sedan
 1935 Ford Fordor, radio and heater

Have You Tried Our Service?

SPOERL'S

32 N. George St. Phone 307
 Since 1898

FLASH GORDON—On the Planet Mongo

DRUGGED TO FORGETFULNESS OF DALE AND THE PAST FLASH IS FASCINATED BY THE NATIVE PRINCESS, ADORA. "YOU MUST WIN FOR ME, MY HERO!"

IN SPITE OF MRS. DEPOUL'S WATCHFULNESS, SELBERT DOES SUCCEED IN SEIZING THE GRANDDAUGHTER, MYRNA, AND TAKING HER TO THE BASE—MENT. THE OLD LADY FOLLOWS...

I TOLD YOU TO KEEP AWAY FROM HER! OPEN THAT DRAIN VALVE. LET HER OUT OF THAT CISTERN!

YOU SHOT ME! I—I CAN'T GET UP—I CAN'T MOVE--

MOVE ENOUGH TO PUSH THAT DRAIN VALVE BUTTON OR I'LL FIX YOU SO YOU NEVER MOVE AGAIN!

DICK TRACY—Basement Chore

ARMED ONLY WITH A WARAKE, FLASH AND ADORA'S SUITOR REGAN ARE ESCORTED INTO THE FOREST WITH CHANCE TO BE THEIR BATTLEGROUND

Registered U. S. Patent Office

C. J. Holstinger

FURNITURE UPHOLSTERING, E. Possett, 131 Frederick St. Phone 1868-W. 9-3-11-T

—Wanted to Buy

WANTED — Accordion. Phone 1095-M. 3-15-11-T

WANTED — Bedroom suite, good condition, cash. Phone 2899. 3-20-31-T

USED GARDEN tractor. Phone 3175-B. 3-22-31-T

SMALL HOUSE with ground, perfect, inside Cumberland State particulars, best price. P. O. Box 568. 3-23-11-T

EIGHT TEN room house, LAVALLE, must be reasonable. Write Box 595-A. Times-News. 3-28-31-Su-M

52—Wanted Miscellaneous

WANTED — Celanese riders, #1 style. Phone 3044. 3-15-31-T

CELANESE RIDERS. 25¢ da. 3-18-11-T

16—Money to Loan

AUTO LOANS NATIONAL LOAN CO. 201 So. George St. Phone 2017

MONEY TO LOAN on first mortgages. Apply to F. A. Pyderbaugh, D. F. McMullen, and Benny P. Epstein, attorneys-at-law. Rooms 58-59 Liberty Trust Building, City. 2-5-11-T

17—For Rent

LARGE SINGLE GARAGE, 509 Riehl Avenue. Phone 1392-M. 1-31-11-T

OFFICE ROOMS, Commercial Savings Bank. 11-15-11-T

STOREROOM, 235 Henderson Ave. 2-21-31-T

STOREROOM, 403 Henderson Ave. Apply 402 Bond St. 3-15-11-T

LARGE STOREROOM with basement, 128 Bedford. 3-20-11-T

19—Furnished Apartments

VERY DESIRABLE 3 room (light and roomy) apartment, electric range and refrigerator, electricity, heat and garage provided. Located just beyond city limits. Occupancy April 1st. $40. Phone 632. 3-22-11-T

THREE ROOMS, private bath, all modern conveniences, 474 Oakdale St. Phone 639-J. 3-23-11-T

THREE ROOM apartment, modern, 218 Columbia St. 3-23-11-T

20—Unfurnished Apartments

THREE ROOMS, modern, private bath, first floor, no children, 702 Maryland Ave. 2-24-11-T

WASHINGTON-LEE, five rooms and bath. Phone 2988-J. 3-17-11-T

THREE ROOMS, modern, Cresaptown. Phone 4027-P-15. 3-19-11-W

THREE-ROOM apartment, private bath, gas, electric, heat furnished. Call 3390. 2-12-11-T

FOUR ROOM apartment, $18, adults only, 753 Kelly Blvd. 3-21-11-W

NEW MODERN 5 room apartment, garage, West Side. Phone 2944-M. 3-21-11-T

515 DECATUR ST., 5 rooms, apply 318 Bedford. 3-21-31-T

MODERN SIX room apartment, radiator service and garage, $75. Phone 1529. W. M. Roberts, 415 Washington St. 3-21-31-T

204 WASHINGTON ST., five rooms and bath. 3-22-11-T

FOUR ROOMS, bath, 123 Columbia. Phone 119. 3-23-11-T

THREE ROOMS, bath, gas, electric, heat furnished, 109 S. Smallwood. 3-22-11-T

THREE ROOMS, apply 228 Arch St. 3-23-11-T

22—Furnished Rooms

PRIVATE HOME, next bath, garage, available, deals optional, 615 Patterson Ave. 3-4-11-T

FRONT BEDROOM and Kitchen, nicely furnished, 91 Henderson Ave. Room 7. 3-18-11-T

HEATED ROOMS, 414 Race St. 3-19-11-T

TWO NICE rooms, adults, Ringley 1952-J. 3-20-31-T

LIGHT housekeeping rooms, Mrs. Wintermeyer, 178 N. Centre. 3-20-31-T

HOUSEKEEPING ROOM, 56 Bedford St. 3-21-31-T

TWO NICE ROOMS, 20 Arch. 3-21-31-T

NICELY FURNISHED bedroom, heat, Dingle, references. Phone 3228. 2-21-41-T

FURNISHED ROOMS, 203 Pava St. 3-22-11-T

LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING rooms, 135 Arch. 3-22-11-T

FRONT BEDROOM gentleman, Decatur St. Phone 1999-R. 3-23-11-T

BEDROOM, private family, reference, 64 Greene. 3-22-31-T

23—Unfurnished Rooms

TWO MODERN unfurnished rooms, $18.50, steam heat, 810 Ayrelet Ave. 3-22-21-T

PRIVATE ROOMS, 445 N. Mechanic. 3-23-21-Su-M

24—Houses For Rent

MODERN eight-room residence, garage, 535 Greene St. $60 month. Phone 1450. 3-10-31-T

LOCUST GROVE, three rooms, large lot, cheap rent, long lease. 3-13-31-T

MODERN HOUSE, garage, West Side will sub-set first floor or retain sleeping room and rent balance. Heat furnished. Phone 3601. 3-20-41-N

SMALL, 116 Virginia Ave., Dr. Crist. 3-20-11-T

26—For Sale, Miscellaneous

SPRING TONG provides perfect mental and physical uplift. Furniture Foundation. Garments. 2026. 3-12-31-T

AMERICAN BEAUTY Studio Couches on display. Reinhardt Furniture Store, 17 Baltimore St. 3-14-21-N

3 TON AIR CONDITION unit, complete, cost $1200, never was used. Will sell for $200. Cumberland Loan Co., 42 N. Mechanic St. 3-14-11-T

Rebuilt Maytag Guaranteed also Wringer Rolls — Parts and Service for any make washer. CUMBERLAND MAYTAG CO. 68 N. Mechanic. Phone 848. 3-25-11-T

VENETIAN BLINDS. Selferts, Mechanic and Frederick Sts. 2-25-11-T

PINE AND FIR lumber, building materials. Truck delivery anywhere. Pennsylvania Lumber & Post Co., Inc., Hyndman. 3-17-31-T

SODA FOUNTAIN and back bar, tables and chairs, shelling, counters and show cases, iron safe, Coca Cola dispenser (new), Holtzman's Drug Store. 3-19-11-T

WESTERN VENETIAN BLINDS. ALL TYPES AND STYLES. DAROL WINDOW SCREENS. DURO CHROME FURNITURE. CALL FOR AN ESTIMATE. Geo. F. Porter, 912-M. 3-29-11-T

HORSE AND MULE. Martin Wilson, Oldtown. 3-21-31-N

WOOD FOR stove and furnace. Phone 1752-W. 3-11-11-N

PIECE DINING room suite, good condition, cheap to quick cash buyer, 423 Louisiana Ave. 3-22-31-T

LARGE TRACT good white pure and mixed oak timber. Phone 388-M. 3-22-11-N

TWO GOOD heavy farm mares, 3 year old colt, 2 good fresh cows, Homer Rice, Flintstone, Md. 3-22-21-N

8 ACRES TIMBER. Phone 1178-W. 3-22-21-T

DINING room suite, piano, reasonable 515 Decatur St. 3-23-31-T

HARLEY DAVIDSON, cheap for cash. Buckel, B. St. LaValle. 3-23-31-T

1600 LB. horse, well broken, gentle, complete 1 horse farming outfit. Phone 1666-M after 4. 3-23-21-T

ROUND OAK dining room table, $5. 136 Elder St. 3-24-11-N

POTATOES U. S. No. 1, 99¢ hundred pound sack, 19¢ peck; No. 2, 59¢ hundred pounds, 10¢ peck. Oranges 49¢ peck. Cumberland Fruit Distributors, 836 N. Mechanic St. 3-24-11-N

Florists

FLOWERS BOPPS. Phone 2582. 10-15-11

Furniture, Stoves

USED FURNITURE. Millerson's, 317 Virginia. 1-6-11-T

See The New 1941 Sellers Kitchen Furniture

E. V. Coyle's 45 Baltimore St.

Funeral Service

William H. Kight Modern Funeral Service Phone 1454 123 Columbia St.

30—Building Supplies

TILE BOARD FOR THE KITCHEN OR BATHROOM. MANY ATTRACTIVE COLOR COMBINATIONS. ONLY $49.80. (COST $8). Phone 1270 1271

21c Per Square Foot Prices At Our Yard

Buchanan Lumber Co.

32—Help Wanted, Female

GIRL FOR housework, LaValle. Phone 3633-J. 3-21-31-T

GIRL FOR housework, 1303 Lafayette Ave. 3-21-31-T

EXPERIENCED WAITRESS, Box 590-A. Times-News. 3-22-21-N

EXPERIENCED GIRL, general housework and cooking, $7 week. Write Box 594-A. Times-News. 3-22-21-T

TWO SALESLADIES, experienced, ladies ready-to-wear, part-time. Peoples Store, 77 Baltimore St. 3-23-21-T

MIDDLE AGED housekeeper, board room with pay, 223 Baltimore Ave. 3-23-11-T

LADY TO organize, supervise women selling for advancement. Splendid opportunity for advancement for ambitious man. Must have clean record. Good salary to start. Box 597-A. Times-News. 3-23-21-Su-M

33—Help Wanted—Male

MAN OVER 45 with car. Box 570-A. Times-News. 3-20-31-T

MIDDLE AGED man to sell for necessary commodity. Box 585-A. Times-News. 3-21-31-N

MAN WITH help to run dairy farm on shares. B. H. Kiser, Pinto, Md. 3-22-31-N

CLERK, RETAIL Grocery experience. Married, 23 to 25 to earn wholesale grocery business. Splendid opportunity for advancement for ambitious man. Must have clean record. Good salary to start. Box 597-A. Times-News. 3-23-21-Su-M

AMBITIOUS MAN to handle established grocery route. Must be honest, energetic. No investment or experience required. We teach you. Earnings should average $25 weekly to start. Address Box 367, Newark, N. J. 3-24-31-N

34—Salesmen Wanted

SALESMEN

LOCAL CONCERN has opening for several substantial, neat appearing energetic men for our appliance sales department. Married, previous sales experience preferred but not required. COMPENSATION: Salary, commission and bonus.

IN ANSWERING THIS AD, give full details, references, and present employment. Address Box 589-A. Times-News. 3-23-41

AAA-1 MANUFACTURER requires one man to contact business offices. Exclusive protected territory.

Celanese Worker Pinned Between Cars near Plant

Mrs. Rose Anna Montgomery Suffers Severe Wounds of Left Leg

KEYNOTER — James E. Spitznas, supervisor of public schools in Western Maryland, will deliver the keynote speech this evening at 6 p. m. in the Central Y. M. C. A. at the dinner marking the opening of the Cumberland Community Chest campaign. The theme of his talk will be "The American Way." Three hundred volunteer workers will attend the dinner.

Mrs. Rose Anna Montgomery, 28, wife of Thomas Montgomery, of Westernport, was painfully injured yesterday about 3:05 p. m. when she was pinned between the bumpers of two cars on the National highway in front of the Celanese plant, where she is employed.

Mrs. Montgomery, who finished work at 3 o'clock, was crossing the highway when the accident occurred. She was between two machines when the one in front stopped suddenly and the rear car, operated by James Stevenson, 24, of Lonaconing, headed toward Cresap town, struck her.

Stevenson, accompanied by S. Orr, of Midland, a Celanese worker, brought Mrs. Montgomery to Allegany hospital and later reported the accident to state police. No charges were placed against him.

Hospital attendants reported no bones were broken but that "numerous" sutures, an estimated 100 or more, were used to close the severe wounds on Mrs. Montgomery's badly mangled left leg. She also suffered shock.

The attending physician said there was no need to amputate Mrs. Montgomery's leg, that is, unless an infection sets in. Her condition was reported "fair" last night.

Witnesses said Mrs. Montgomery was nearly clear of the cars when she was caught between the bumpers. The accident was unavoidable, they added.

Stevenson said he was traveling at a slow speed because of the thick traffic from the Celanese, but was unable to stop in time. He said the car in front of him stopped quickly without warning.

Mrs. Montgomery's husband is employed in the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at Luke.

200 Write Essays On Conservation

Smith, Kelley and Hoffa Judge Compositions in Contest

Judges have received compositions in the essay contest being sponsored by the Cold Spring Road and Gun Club of Luke, and expect to announce the winners of the three cash prizes within another week.

The subject of the essay in which boys and girls of the Luke elementary school and Westernport high and elementary schools participated is "Conservation of Our Wildlife."

Approximately 200 boys and girls took part in the contest which closed March 12.

Judges are Fulcher P. Smith, a member of the Maryland Inland Fish and Game commission; Arthur P. Hoffa, chairman of the Allegany county advisory council to the state commission; and J. Wesley Kelley, executive secretary of the Western Maryland Outdoor Life Federation.

Cash prizes will be awarded the writers of the three outstanding essays. Walter Funkhouser is president of the Cold Spring Road and Gun club, sponsor of the contest.

Red Cross Officials Returned from Meeting At Frederick Hotel

Officials of Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross, returned yesterday from Frederick, Md., where they attended a luncheon and first aid water and accident prevention conference Saturday at which Donald McLeod, assistant director of first aid, life saving and accident prevention, and L. Grant McCubbin, of national headquarters, Washington, D. C., were the principal speakers.

A representative of the Borden Milk Company explained how mobile units function with his company in case of emergency and told how truck drivers have reduced fatalities to a minimum through their ability to administer first aid. Each truck carries a first aid plate and the mobile units are part of the company's safety program.

Those attending the meeting from here were Mrs. Lee W. Withers, chapter chairman; Mrs. Louise P. Coulehan, executive secretary; Karl G. Perry, first aid chairman; Mrs. Wyand F. Doerner, first aid instructor, and Mrs. Teresa Coleman, local NYA supervisor.

Court Gives War Vet Chance To Make Good

Charged with violating the term of his parole by failing to make restitution for bad checks, Harry Mosser, 45, of Garrett county, was given a hearing Saturday in circuit court before Associate Judge William A. Hunter who decided to give the World War veteran another chance.

Mosser was arrested several weeks ago when it was learned that he had not made restitution for worthless checks and had failed to pay his court costs. He told the court he had been working at a CCC camp and lacked funds to make the payments. He served in the U. S. Navy during the last war.

"Quiz" Is Feature Of Forum Program On Chest Work

Scores of Questions Answered by Trio of Local Leaders

A "quiz" program with members of the public posing questions regarding various phases of Community Chest work was presented yesterday by the Town Hall Forum of the Air.

The three men who answered the questions asked were H. W. Smith, Charles L. Kopp and Harvey Weiss, all officials of the Chest. A. L. Rogers was moderator and Arthur Mosier read the questions either mailed in last week or telephoned yesterday.

Some of the many questions asked and answered were: Question—In view of increased employment, why has the chest increased its goal over that of last year? Answer—It is true the budget has been increased slightly, ($300). However, employment does not enter in to the picture to too great an extent due to the fact that so much of the work done through Chest agencies is for unemployable people.

Question—Isn't the goal set too high for Cumberland, a city of only 40,000 people?

Average Just Fair Answer—Portsmouth, O., a city of 45,000, raises $60,000; Pottsville, Pa., a city of 20,000 raises $57,000; Steubenville, O., a town of 38,000, raises $82,000. Cities in Cumberland's class contribute more per capita than we do here.

Question—How much does the overhead of the Chest amount to? Answer—Ten percent of the total amount raised.

Question—Which members of the board are paid a salary?

Answer—By Mr. Kopp: Mr. Smith, the president, is the only member who receives a salary. He is paid $850 a year. Prior to several years ago he was paid $1,000 which amount was cut at his own request when the chest had difficulty making its goals. It also should be pointed out that Mr. Smith worked free for a number of years. The board finally decided that this was not fair and voted him a salary.

Question—What is the tieup between the Chamber of Commerce and the Community Chest?

No Connection Answer—There is no connection between the two organizations. Mr. Smith happens to be secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. As such he has been able to work in the chest work in his office. If a man was employed as a full-time worker to handle the chest work, it would cost considerably more than is now being paid.

Question—Why is a paid campaign manager employed for each drive? Answer—The work of the chest in raising money has become increasingly complicated in recent years and it has been found that better results have been obtained by bringing in a trained expert. Also, capable local people are unable to give up six weeks from their own work to organize a chest campaign.

"Quiz" Is Feature Question—Would a state wages and hours law reduce the load of the chest?

Answer—A majority of those helped are unemployables and people in distress temporarily. It is doubtful therefore that such an act would drastically relieve the load of the chest.

Question—Have strikers ever received aid from the Associated Charities?

Answer—Yes, strikers received aid in 1936 when an emergency relief committee was organized to assist families in need.

Question—Why should the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts be supported?

Answer—The work of the chest in raising money has become increasingly complicated in recent years and it has been found that better results have been obtained by bringing in a trained expert. Also, capable local people are unable to give up six weeks from their own work to organize a chest campaign.

Question—Would a state wages and hours law reduce the load of the chest?

Answer—A majority of those helped are unemployables and people in distress temporarily. It is doubtful therefore that such an act would drastically relieve the load of the chest.

Question—Have strikers ever received aid from the Associated Charities?

Answer—Yes, strikers received aid in 1936 when an emergency relief committee was organized to assist families in need.

Question—Why should the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts be supported?

Answer—The work of the chest in raising money has become increasingly complicated in recent years and it has been found that better results have been obtained by bringing in a trained expert. Also, capable local people are unable to give up six weeks from their own work to organize a chest campaign.

Question—Would a state wages and hours law reduce the load of the chest?

Answer—A majority of those helped are unemployables and people in distress temporarily. It is doubtful therefore that such an act would drastically relieve the load of the chest.

Question—Have strikers ever received aid from the Associated Charities?

Answer—Yes, strikers received aid in 1936 when an emergency relief committee was organized to assist families in need.

Question—Why should the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts be supported?

Answer—The work of the chest in raising money has become increasingly complicated in recent years and it has been found that better results have been obtained by bringing in a trained expert. Also, capable local people are unable to give up six weeks from their own work to organize a chest campaign.

Question—Would a state wages and hours law reduce the load of the chest?

Answer—A majority of those helped are unemployables and people in distress temporarily. It is doubtful therefore that such an act would drastically relieve the load of the chest.

Question—Have strikers ever received aid from the Associated Charities?

BENEFICIARY OF THE CHEST—

The case of Wayne Herpick, now ten years old, is a very good example of the fine work that is being accomplished here by the Cumberland Community Chest. Wayne, a victim of cerebral palsy, was born with no use of his arms or legs and an involvement of the muscles of his tongue. Through the Allegany County League for Crippled Children the youngster not only has learned to walk but is now doing second grade work under a specially trained teacher who comes to his home. Clinics and treatments for the care of Wayne and many more like him, are made possible by the Community Chest which opens its campaign today to raise $56,605 for ten different agencies, Herpick and his teacher are pictured above.

Funds of Community Chest Help Local Victim of Cerebral Palsy

Wayne Herpick Learns To Walk through League for Crippled Children

A victim of cerebral palsy, Wayne Herpick, now ten years old, was born with no use of his arms or legs and an involvement of the muscles of his tongue. Twenty-five years ago this would have been a hopeless case, always dependent upon others for everything. But through the Allegany County League for Crippled Children, Wayne has now only learned to walk, but is now doing second grade work and it is expected that in several years, he will be able to continue his education in the local public school system.

Wayne was brought to the clinic when he was two years old, and has been given the best treatment known to orthopedists. A year ago his shoes were nailed to heavy five foot skis, so he could learn to walk without support and falling. As he continued to progress the skis were shortened until now they are only two feet long. Long ago he abandoned walking in parallel bars, but when he's out of doors he has a wire to grasp if he needs it. He seldom does.

Mental Tests Are High Two years ago Wayne was started in the first grade under the special education program of the department of education. Three times a week now a specially trained teacher comes to his home and gives him his second grade work. Because of the involvement in his speech it is difficult, even now, to understand him, but Wayne is very cooperative and his mental tests are high.

Because he will never have complete use of his hands the League is very anxious that he learn to write on a typewriter. But until now the family has been unable to get one. Physiotherapists claim that a typewriter is essential to the child.

(Continued on Page 9, Col. 6)

Ridgeley Baby Is Badly Burned by Scrub Water

Gale Simmons, one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chelsey K. Simmons, 20 Central avenue, Ridgeley, Va., who was painfully burned Saturday afternoon when she fell into a bucket of boiling water, remained in "serious" condition last night at Allegany hospital.

Hospital attendants were told that the baby's mother was using the hot water for scrubbing and that the infant toddled near the steaming bucket and fell backwards into it.

The baby suffered severe burns about the back and hips.

(Continued on Page 9, Col. 6)

New Mayor To Take Office Here Today

Ira Stroup and Four Councilmen To Hold Reins for One Hour

Allegany high school's newly elected mayor and city council will take over the reins of Cumberland's government today for one hour and five minutes at city hall.

Ira Stroup, junior, will pinch-hit for Mayor Harry Irvine while Milton Athey, James Clower, Jack Forster and Harry Yeager will supplant Thomas F. Conlon, William J. Edwards, James Orr and Edgar H. Reynolds as members of the city council.

The Allegany representatives will attend the regular meeting of the council at 10 a. m. and at the conclusion of this meeting, will assume their duties.

The mayor-elect and his four assistants will then conduct a mock council meeting of their own, which will be open to the public.

Conducted by the Student Congress, the election is an outgrowth of Alpha Delta Kappa's coming production "Our Town" which will be presented at the Allegany high school auditorium, Friday, March 28.

Business to be transacted at the regular meeting of the council will include the awarding of a contract for the remodeling of the old jail on Bedford street into headquarters for the Allegany League for Crippled Children.

Approximately $500 was realized from the musical revue, "Tattle Tales of 1941," which was presented here last week under the auspices of the Cumberland Lions Club, and this sum will be used toward the eyeight conservation program being carried on in the local schools. It was announced last evening by John K. Snyder, president.

Snyder said that the Lions club has furnished an average of sixty pairs of glasses to school children here annually and that figures will be doubled with the proceeds of the musical revue. For the past year the club has provided five pairs of glasses monthly to boys and girls with defective vision.

It was estimated that 1,200 persons attended the two performances of "Tattle Tales of 1941," which was

Duke University Singers To Give Concert Tonight

Glee Club of 35 Voices Will Present Program at Allegany High

Nearly every state on the Atlantic seaboard, and a number of Middle-western states are represented in the group of thirty-five singers of the Duke University Glee Club, scheduled to appear in concert this evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Allegany high school auditorium.

The picked voices, under the direction of J. Foster Barnes, will be heard in a program rich in melody and harmony, including classical, light operatic and comic choral numbers.

Spirituals On Program Duke glee clubs have long been noted for their interpretations of Negro spirituals. The director, born and reared on a Virginia farm, learned the folk-songs of his colored neighbors at an early age, and many of his young singers have likewise learned the old familiar spirituals in the cotton and tobacco fields of the south.

Director Barnes is recognized as an authority on amateur productions of Gilbert and Sullivan operettas, and one of two lively songs from "The Mikado" or "Patience" or "Pinafore" are apt to be heard before the concert closes here. The Duke singers have won numerous state and regional college glee club contests and have competed with other leading American university groups in national contests.

Tonight's concert will be the third in Cumberland for a Duke club. Arrangements for the program, sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce, are in charge of John F. Vandegrift.

Personnel of Club Coming from Washington where they gave a concert yesterday, the Duke singers are scheduled to arrive today at 3:30 p. m. With Director Barnes in charge, the club's personnel comprises the following singers:

FIRST TENORS: Bruce Boorman, Rochester, N. Y.; Dan Burbank, Washington, D. C.; Strouse Campbell, Jr., Columbus, O.; Robert M. Fuqua, Bluefield, W. Va.; Walter P. Geyer, Jr., Snyder, N. Y.; William J. Page, Albemarle, N. C.; William H. Slocum, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Arthur B. Thompson, Jr., York, Pa.

SECOND TENORS: Carl H. Birkelo, Detroit, Mich.; Henry Glenn, Eufala, Ala.; Thomas Howerton, Durham, N. C.; Lyle Bloomsburg, Pa.; Fred D. Manget, Atlanta, Ga.; Charles Skinner, Hartsfield, S. C.; Donald Somerville, Cumberland, Md.

BARITONES: Francis L. Dale, Portsmouth, O.; H. B. Glisson, Savannah, Ga.; William Ludwig, Chillicothe, O.; William Weber, Erie, Pa.; Alston Pifer, Durham, N. C.; John F. Rushmore, Clark's Green, Pa.; Walter E. Shackelford, Durham, N. C.; Robert B. Sink, Greensboro, N. C.; Thomas B. Sulter, Rocky Mount, N. C.; Robert Stewart, Hershey, Pa.

BASSOS: Henry H. Crane, Jr., Detroit, Mich.; Harold W. Cruikshank, Freeport, N. Y.; George Duncan, Spartansburg, S. C.; Thomas P. Fletcher, Paducah, Ky.; Donald Herder, Baltimore, Md.; William Richey Hogg, Wilkinsburg, Pa.; Thoburn R. Snyder, Mount Pleasant, Pa.; Edward A. Stonelifer, Jr., Baltimore, Md.; Henry H. Wilson, Jr., Monroe, N. C.; Robert D. Young, Westfield, N. C.;

Golson Hawkins, Fort Deposit, Ala., is accompanist.

(Continued on Page 9, Col. 6)

Sportsmen Name Frank E. Smith Vice-President

Guardians of the River Protest Erection of Power Plant on Potomac

Frank E. Smith, The Dingle, yesterday was elected a vice-president of the new sportsmen's group called Guardians of the River, which was formed at a meeting at the Conococheague Sportsmen's club along the Potomac river near Shepherdstown, W. Va.

Thomas G. Pangborn, Hagerstown, was named president of the new group. The main purpose of the organization is to prevent conditions which would seriously affect fishing in the Potomac. One of the principal objectives is to protest against the erection of a huge hydro-electric power plant at Harpers Ferry, surveys for which have already been made.

A resolution was drawn up and will be forwarded to Governor Herbert.

(Continued on Page 9, Col. 6)

New York Group To Present Play

"Robin Hood" Will Be Given Today at Fort Hill High School

Clare Tree Major, founder of the Children's Theater of New York, will bring her dramatic version of Robin Hood and his merry men today at 9:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. on the stage of the Fort Hill high school auditorium.

Mrs. Major, who was born in England, will take her show to Westernport and Frostburg tomorrow. She is appearing here under the auspices of the Allegany County P-T-A.

An entirely new feature of the production will be authentic folk-music, unchanged since Robin Hood's time. The music was arranged by Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, president of the National Association of American Composers and Conductors, who is an authority on ancient folk songs.

Examinations Scheduled For City Job Applicants

Applicants for positions on the Cumberland police and fire departments will be required to take examinations, Wednesday, April 30, at 7 o'clock at Fort Hill high school, according to S. E. Grimmer, secretary of the board of civil service commissioners.

Application blanks may be secured from the city clerk and must be returned along with a medical examination report not later than noon, Saturday, April 5.

DIRECTOR — J. Foster Barnes himself a concert baritone of note, will direct the Duke University Glee Club in a concert to be presented this evening at the Allegany high school auditorium. Under his direction, Duke singers have toured Eastern cities with distinguished success for the last fifteen years. The Duke director's keen theatrical sense and contagious enthusiasm coupled with his fine musicianship, serves to make his glee clubs' concerts popular with all classes of audiences.

Charles R. Bryant, 41, of 1017 Gay street, died yesterday afternoon at the Allegany hospital where he was admitted Saturday night. He was an employee of the Bolt and Forge department of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Anna B. Bryant, his mother, Mrs. Lester Meyers, and seven children, Thomas, Jackie, John, Raymond, Lester, Robert J., Bessie May and Shirley Bryant. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Bessie Little, of Bedford, Pa.

The body will remain at Stein's chapel pending funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Crabtree Dies

Mrs. Ruth Virginia Crabtree, 71, wife of Leonard S. Crabtree, died Saturday at her home near Oldtown.

She was a native of Green Ridge and a daughter of the late Elder and Christina Allinger Kerns.

Surviving besides her husband, are a sister, Mrs. Ada Cunningham, 424 Sempour street, to whom home the body was taken; four step-sons, Raymond, Walter, Russell and Millard Crabtree; four step-daughters, Mrs. Altha Bender, Mrs. Myrtle Alderton, Mrs. Dorothy Perdue and Mrs. Pearl Steckman, all of the Cumberland area.

Mrs. Kenny Succumbs

Mrs. Agnes B. Kenny, 65, widow of Timothy L. Kenny, died Saturday at her residence, 205 Spring street.

A native of Wellersburg, Pa., she was a daughter of the late William and Anna Troll O'Baker.

A sister, Miss Ella L. O'Baker, with whom she lived, is the only immediate survivor.

Mrs. Izzett Succumbs

Mrs. Janet W. Izzett, 79, of Dan's Rock road, died Saturday night. Born in Lanarichshire, Scotland, she came to this country when she was eleven years of age.

Surviving are two sons, Isaac Izzett, at home, and Kilgore Izzett, of Mt. Savage; six daughters, Mrs. Eva Dawson and Mrs. G. L. Gordon, both of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mrs. Margaret Livingston and Mrs. George Shearer, at home; Mrs. C. E. Padley, this city, and Mrs. William Beaman, of Lonaconing; one sister, Mrs. Lewis Berkenbaugh, of Pittsburgh; thirteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Service Station Is Slightly Damaged by Explosion and Blaze

The interior of the Gulf service station, Greene and Lee streets, was slightly damaged about 11 o'clock Saturday night by an explosion and fire which broke out when gasoline being used to clean grease from the concrete floor was ignited by a hot water heater.

West Side firemen, less than fifty yards away, quickly extinguished the blaze. The blast blew out the display window of the office, but the service station attendants escaped injury.

South End firemen were called yesterday at 2:26 p. m. to the home of Kenneth D. Racey, 729 Hill Top Drive, when hot grease in a skillet on a lighted stove ignited. There was no damage.

Miraculous Medal Club Plans Social Tonight

The Miraculous Medal club will hold its weekly social today at 8:30 p. m. at Allegany hospital for the benefit of rural missions in charge of the Sisters of Charity.

Other Local News On Page 2 and 9

DeSales Cook Is Winner in CSMC Oratory Contest

Receives $10 First Prize; Thekla D. Price Cops Top Poster Award

DeSales Cook, member of the Gallitzin Veteran unit of the Catholic Student Mission Crusade, won the oratorical contest last night at SS Peter and Paul hall.

Cook developed his theme from the main topic, "Personal Sacrifice for the Home and Foreign Missions," by describing how Catholics in America could aid in helping missionaries who are in dire straits as a result of the wars which are raging in both Europe and Asia.

Missionaries who formerly went out from France, Holland, Italy and other European countries are not available and those already in the field are unable to receive help from their mother countries.

Americans Can Aid American Catholics can do much in alleviating this acute situation by personal sacrifices not only in donations but by visits to the Tabernacle and by prayer. Jesus Christ has said that those who help his fellow man helps Him.

A parallel between great men of America who fostered this country's early growth and those missionaries who work among the heathens in Asia and also among the unenlightened in our own country was drawn by C. Leo Connell, who represented the Meric unit in the oratorical contest.

Washington, Lincoln and other great Americans sacrificed much to bring about our country's solid foundation and those missionaries who toil among foreign lands are also sacrificing their own interests to bring about Christianity for God's people.

Cook won the $10 prize and the right to represent Cumberland C.S.M.C. units in the archdiocesan finals which will be held in Carroll hall, this city, Sunday, April 20 at 3 p. m. A cash award of $25 and the Bishop McNamara Trophy will go to the winner.

Announce Poster Winners Announcement of the poster contest winners in Friday night's judging at Catholic Girls' Central high school, was made with Thekla D. Price, of Meric unit winning first prize of $5 donated by Mrs. Edith E. Fowler.

Second prize of $2 donated by Miss Loretta Blaul was won by Wyand F. Doerner of Meric unit, while William D. Price won honorable mention.

The posters were exhibited at the oratory contest. The judges were Sister Beatrice, S.S.N.D. Girls' Central high school; Miss Dorothy Campbell, Allegany high school faculty; and Miss Loretta Blaul.

The Rev. Father Boniface Weckman, O.F.M. Cap., was honorary chairman and Miss Ann Young, president of Cumberland Inter-Veteran Unit Council, C.S.M.C., presided.

A vocal solo, "All in An April Evening" was sung by Donald Roiley.

Judges in the oratorical contest were Miss Winifred Green, supervising teacher of Allegany county public schools; Miss Mary E. Murray, Allegany high school faculty; and Thomas B. Finan, Jr., local attorney.

Local Youth Held On Assault Charge

Donald L. Smith Accused of Slugging Service Station Attendant

An 18-year-old deaf and dumb negro was ordered held under $500 bond for action of the April grand jury when arraigned Saturday in trial magistrates court on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

The youth, Donald L. Smith, 315 Central avenue, waived a preliminary hearing.

Police apprehended the negro early Thursday morning at his home after Archie Marvin, 23, of 223 Harrison street, attendant at the Spur service station on Winew street, had been slugged in an apparent robbery attempt.

Marvin told police the negro came to the station and wrote a note, asking for some gasoline. He said he turned to get a gasoline can in a rear room and the negro hit him on the head with a piece of iron.

Half-stunned by the blow, Marvin added, he fought his assailant but the negro finally broke away and fled. Marvin was treated at Memorial hospital for a slight concussion of the brain.

Lieut. James E. Van and Officers John H. Newhouse and Charles D. Manges investigated.

Youth Is Arrested On Motor Law Charge

Paul Ridgeley, 15, of Frankfort road, W. Va., was arrested Saturday afternoon on River avenue by Officer L. L. Youngblood, on a charge of driving without a license. He was released under $22 bond pending a hearing today in trial magistrates court.

Another driver, Philip P. Skelley, of RFD 5, Cumberland, is scheduled to be given a hearing today in police court on a careless driving charge. He was apprehended Saturday night in North Cumberland by Officer George W. Deffenbaugh.